Basic Controls

There is a lot to see and do in Animal Crossing: Wild World. You won't get anywhere, however, until you learn the basics. Here is a breakdown of the controls—master them for quicker and easier navigation.

Top Screen

During gameplay, the top screen will display the sky above your town. Occasionally you will see something (or someone) flying across the top screen. And when you enter the main menu, the action on the bottom screen will move to the top screen so you can see what's going on while you equip tools, or get a look at changes you may make to your personal appearance.

L Button

Use the L Button to cycle through different subjects in the menu screen and to cycle through the color palette when creating custom designs. L also lets you run in town.

Control Pad

Use the Control Pad to move your character around or to adjust the direction your character is facing. The Control Pad also lets you navigate through menu screens.

Touch Screen

All the action happens on the touch screen. You will navigate menus (with or without the stylus), interact with characters and control your character on the touch screen. Also, if you stay still for a moment the date and time will pop up in the bottom-right corner.

X Button

Press the X Button to go to your town map and check the location of points of interest or of neighbors. Use the Control Pad and the A Button to select different locations (which will flash purple). Press the X Button again or the B Button to exit the town map. When you're inside a home or the museum, the X Button will let you access the camera. Use the Control Pad or stylus to change your view.

Select Button

Press the Select Button to go to your keyboard screen where you can type messages to be displayed onscreen for others to see. Press Select again or the B Button to return to gameplay.

R Button

Use the R Button to cycle through options on the menu screen, and through the color palette when creating custom designs. R also lets you run in town.

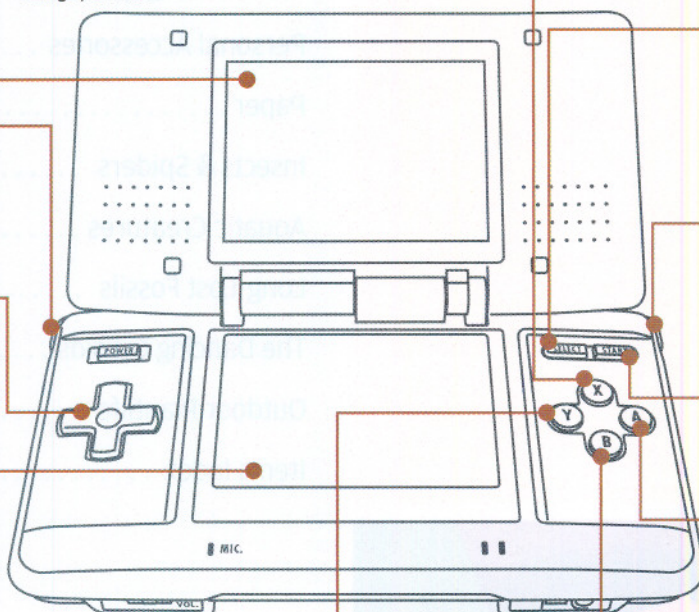

Start Button

Press Start to bring up the option to save your game no matter where you are.

A Button

In addition to confirming menu selections, the A Button has multiple functions. While standing next to a person or object, press A to do any of the following:

- Talk to a character
- Enter a door
- Shake a tree
- Read a sign
- Use tools
- Grab furniture

Y Button

Press the Y Button to go to the Suitcase screen where you can manage items, bells or letters you are carrying. You can also change your appearance and equip tools on this screen. Press the Y Button again or the B Button to return to gameplay.

B Button

The B Button is used to pick things up and pull plants out of the ground. You can also use the B Button to exit menu screens and to increase the speed of messages when others are talking to you. When walking around town, hold B, L or R to run.

Using the Stylus

Want a whole new gaming experience? Try playing by using only the stylus. It may be tricky at first, but once you get the hang of it you'll never want to go back. Moving around, using tools, and writing letters are much more intuitive when using the stylus. It can be useful for creating custom patterns, as well. The tips on this page will help you get the most out of stylus control in Animal Crossing: Wild World.

Moving Your Character

To move your character, press the stylus down on the spot where you want your character to go. Your character will walk that direction as long as you hold the stylus down. The farther away you place the stylus, the faster your character will move. You can also position the stylus closer to your character for fine-tuned steps.

Navigating Menus

The stylus makes it very easy to navigate the menu screens. You can touch items to bring up options for using them. You can also hold the stylus on an item and move it to an open slot or onto your character for a quick change. Additionally, many menus have sliders that you can use to cycle through items quickly.

Interacting with Items

You can use the stylus to interact with people and items. Stand next to a character and tap him with the stylus to start a conversation. Tap a tree to shake it. Tap an object on the ground to pick it up. Just make sure you're facing toward the person or item you want to interact with.

Manipulating Items & Using Tools

To grab an item so you can move it around your home, face it and hold the stylus on your character then drag the item anywhere you want. Using tools like fishing poles and shovels works similarly. Position your character where you want him to work (like facing a tree you want to chop down), and tap your character to have him use the tool.

It All Starts Here

The title screen is where your Animal Crossing life begins. Once you touch the screen or press the Start Button, the title screen will pop up and ask you what you would like to do.

The title screen will give you a glimpse of one of your neighbors walking around your town. It will also reflect the season of the year.

Continue

If there is already a town saved, the Continue option will be available in the title screen menu (if no town is saved on the DS game, this option is not in the menu — the option will be New Game instead). Choose Continue to start playing in your town.

New Resident

You can create up to three new residents to move into a town that is already saved on your DS game.

Tag Mode

Tag mode is accessible only if you have purchased a note in a bottle and released it into the ocean. See page 51 for more information about Tag mode.

Other Things

Select Other Things to view a menu of the more-advanced options listed below.

Rebuild Town

Select this option to remove the saved town from your game card so you can start a new game.

Erase Resident

This gives you the option of removing a saved resident from your town.

Immigration

Select Immigration to have your saved character move to a town on another DS game card.

Wi-Fi Settings

Advanced configuration and settings for your Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection are found here. See page 12 for more information.

Save the Game

Unlike the original Animal Crossing, you can now save your game at any time, no matter where you are. You can also choose to go to sleep in your upstairs bedroom to save the game (see page 9). If you have a visitor from another town, however, your save options are different. See page 50 for more info.

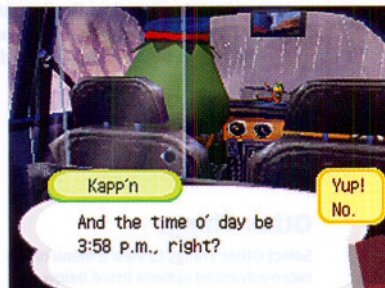

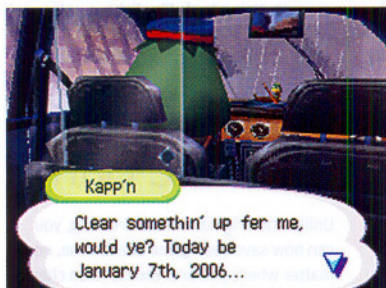

Ready to take a break? Just press the Start Button to save and end the game. When you restart your game, you will wake up back in your bedroom. How did you end up there? It's just another one of Animal Crossing's unexplained mysteries.

Start Your New Life

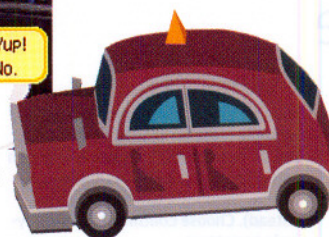

When your adventure begins, you are a blank slate—no name, no money and no friends. That will soon change, though, as you begin your new life in a town that seems to have been custom-made for you.

Welcome Aboard!

Your new life starts off in the back of a taxi driven by a parrot named Kapp'n. He will ask you a slew of questions as you travel to your new town. The first thing he asks for is the correct day, time and month. The game is based in real time, so it's important to get this set up correctly. Kapp'n will then ask you a series of questions that may not seem very relevant, but will in fact determine your appearance, your gender and what kind of town you live in—answer carefully.

In the original Animal Crossing, Kapp'n took passengers across the water in a boat, but now he's traded in his paddle for a gas pedal.

Fan of the Rain?

Kapp'n will ask if you're sick of the rainy weather yet—your answer will determine your eye color and eye shape.

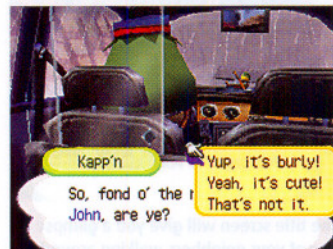

The Name Game

Next, Kapp'n will ask for your name. You'll have to live with this name for the rest of your Animal Crossing life, so don't pick one you'll regret! After you tell him your name, he'll give you one last chance to change it before saving it.

Burly or Cute?

Kapp'n will ask whether you are burly or cute. This will decide whether you are a boy (burly) or girl (cute).

Gender Confusion?

You'll get one last chance to confirm your gender. Watch what happens if you change your mind—you'll practically give poor Kapp'n a heart attack!

Name That Town

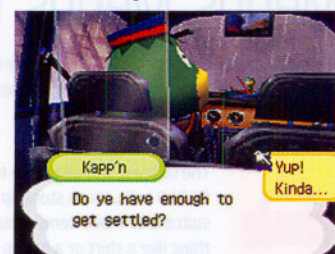

Next you will be asked to name your town. Again, be sure it's something you can live with, because you won't be able to change it later on.

Are You a Beach Bum?

Kapp'n will ask you what your favorite part of town is: the beach, town hall, shopping, the border or the museum. Your answer will determine where you live.

Got Money for the Fare?

Did you forget to bring cab fare? Don't worry—Kapp'n is pretty easygoing and might let it slide if you answer a few more questions.

How Do I Look?

A lot of factors can alter your appearance. If you gave Kapp'n mixed signals about your gender, you might end up as a boy with girlish eyes, or vice versa. Or if you answered all the questions rudely, you might end up with a permanent scowl. There are dozens of possible outcomes depending on how you handled your conversation with Kapp'n. Below are just a few examples of the different looks for boys and girls.

Boy Examples

Girl Examples

The Town Hall

After your long conversation with Kapp'n, you will finally arrive in town. Your first stop is the town hall, where you will sort out your living arrangements. Talk to Pelly—she'll ask if you need any help. If you let her know that you have just moved in, she will tell you how Tom Nook has been waiting for your arrival and that there is a modest home waiting for you to move into. She'll even give you a town map that shows the location of your new home—take a stroll across town and check it out!

If you look behind Pelly you will see a turtle sitting at a desk. This is Tortimer, the mayor of your town. A more formal meeting will take place soon enough.

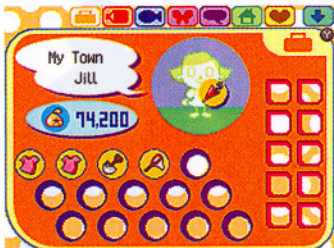

Menus, Menus, Menus!

Before you check out your new pad, you may want to get acquainted with the menu system. This page details the icons that appear on the menu screen.

Suitcase

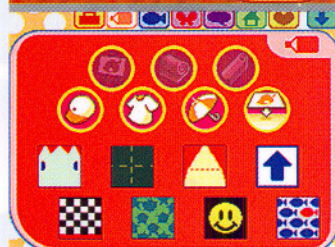

The suitcase will allow you to store 15 items and a bag that holds up to 99,999 bells. It can store up to 10 letters, as well. You can also use the suitcase to move items around or organize them. If you want to put something like a shirt or a hat on your character, simply drag the item from its location and drop it on to the little character icon. To remove an item from your character, tap your character icon and select Remove. You can also drop items by dragging the items to the ground by the character's feet. Likewise, you can withdraw bells by tapping the bell bag and selecting the amount.

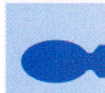

Patterns

If you want to really leave your mark in town, try creating some new patterns at the Able Sisters shop. You can access all your custom designs through the Patterns menu, which lets you store up to eight designs to use on clothes, umbrellas, wallpaper, or even your floor. Or, turn your pattern into a painting and display your masterpiece for the whole town to see. Turn to page 60 for more info.

Aquatic Creatures Data

This option allows you to check the data of any fish you have caught. To catch a fish, of course, you will have to buy a fishing rod at Tom Nook's shop. Once you've caught a fish, this menu will automatically catalog it and list all its vital stats.

Bug Data

This option will allow you to check the data of any bug you have caught. To catch a bug, though, you must first buy a net at Tom Nook's shop. Once you've caught a bug, the menu will display its name, size and location, and the time of the year it was caught—all helpful info if you need or want to catch another of its kind.

Keyboard

The keyboard is your main tool for communication. You can use it to chat with other players when playing wirelessly. Except for Emotions, all of the keyboard options will be available at the beginning. You'll learn about emotions from Dr. Shrunken later in the game. See page 51 for more on multiplayer interaction. Additionally, you will spend a good deal of time writing letters to your friends and neighbors, so make sure you've got a full stock of stationery at all times. You can buy a variety of different types of stationery at the store, or receive it as a gift. Your keyboard can write only a few lines before running out of ink, so keep your notes short and sweet (the pen icon on the upper screen indicates your ink supply).

Town Map

When the game starts, you'll be using your town map to learn your way around town. It will display all your neighbors' homes. When you select the name of a neighbor, his house will flash on the map. Tap the shop icon to locate any of the other buildings in town, like Tom Nook's, the town hall or the museum. Whenever you visit a new town, you will have its map automatically.

Friend Roster

When you travel to a new town using the Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection, don't forget to enter your new pals' friend codes in your friend roster by pressing the Register button. This way, you will never lose track of your new buddies. Of course, if you want to lose track of them, you can always remove them from your list.

A Humble Beginning

Your new home is small, but it comes fully stocked with everything you need... a candle and an old radio! The outside isn't much better, with just a small mailbox to the left. (Be sure to check your mailbox every time the flag is up—that means there's new mail waiting for you.) Up to four people can live in your home to help pay off the mortgage so you can upgrade to a bigger model.

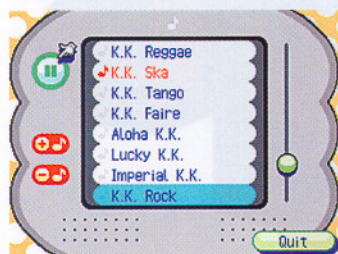

Let There Be Light

When you first enter your home, your candle will be unlit. To light it, stand in front of it and tap your character with the stylus or press the A Button. Once you upgrade to modern lights, they will operate in a similar fashion.

Turn up the Tunes

That old tape player may not look like much, but it will allow you to play music you get from K.K. Slider's appearances at The Roost, a café inside the museum. For more info about K.K. Slider, turn to page 40.

Move Stuff Around

Your house may be sparsely decorated at first, but you can rearrange things. Move items to new locations by pushing and pulling them, or changing the direction they face. If you don't like what came with the house, you can grab the items to remove them.

Design Your Own Dream Home

Once you start to acquire items and furniture, the fun really begins. For more details about furnishing your home, turn to page 54.

Say Cheese!

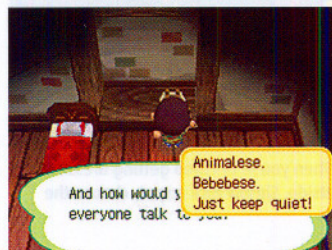

Use the camera option to get a closer look at an item or to check out something from a different angle. Tap the camera icon or press the X Button to choose different camera options. Tap or press a certain direction to move the camera that way, then hit the camera icon at the center of the arrow cluster to return to the default angle. You can also press the X Button again or tap the top camera icon to lock the camera view.

The Second Floor

Your bedroom is upstairs on the second floor. You can't place items in this room—it is strictly for you and your roommates to sleep and save the game. However, you can use a phone in this room to reset the clock after you save, or to call your town's Service Center. The initial Service Center options are shown below.

Set the Sounds

Use the Sounds menu to change how the characters sound when you talk to them—they can speak Animalese or Bebelese, or just keep quiet. You can also set the sound to Stereo or Surround Sound.

Downloads

Select Download to configure your Wi-Fi settings and to download items from the Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection to add extra content and fun to your Wild World experience. Turn to page 12 for basic information about the Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection.

Work for Tom Nook

Tom Nook is always looking for extra help around his shop. When you step outside your house for the first time, he will show up out of the blue and offer you a job. You owe a lot of money on your house (19,800 bells!), so hustle over to his store and get to work!

Time for a Little Landscaping

When you arrive at work, Tom Nook will give you a uniform to wear. Select it from your suitcase and drag it onto your character's icon. When you're finished getting dressed, Tom will give you some trees and flowers to plant outside. Simply pick a spot, choose the item from your menu and plant it in the ground.

Tom Nook's Work Clothes

You have to keep your Nook outfit on until all chores are completed. This is one of only two ways to acquire this clothing pattern. (The other way is that Gracie will sometimes give it to you as a joke instead of giving you her own designs.)

Talking to the Mayor

Once you have finished landscaping, talk with Nook again. He will tell you to walk around town and meet the residents. Speak with the mayor first—he will ask you a few questions. If it's a holiday, he may even give you a gift.

The Art of Mingling

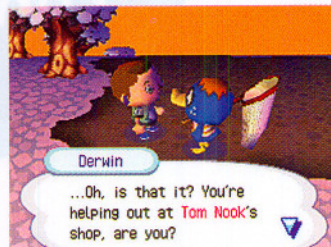

Next you will want to go and speak with some townfolk. When your town is in its infancy you will have only a few neighbors. If you can't find them wandering around town, try knocking on their doors. Make sure you talk to all three neighbors. In fact, try speaking to them a few times to get special tips or useful information. When you're talking with your neighbors for the first time, one of them will ask you when your birthday is. On the special day, your town will celebrate your birthday and neighbors will give you gifts (see page 30 to learn more about neighbors).

Special Delivery!

After you've met the mayor and all of your neighbors, go back to Nook's shop; he will have a whole new set of chores for you. You will serve as Nook's personal delivery person, running errands all around town. Try to remember which product goes to which neighbor—if you mess up, you'll have to do it all over again!

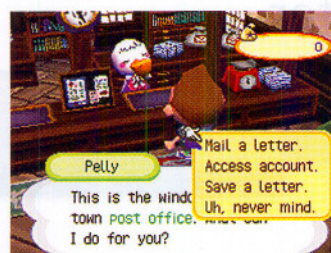

Delivering the Goods

The first errand you'll run for Nook will be to deliver some furniture. Pay close attention when Nook tells you who the item is for—you'll have to locate the recipient somewhere in town. When you find the neighbor you're looking for, tell him you have a delivery. If you do a good job, you might get a thank-you gift.

Time to Deliver Mail

Return to Nook's for another task. He will ask you to write a letter about his store and mail it to a neighbor. Try to write something positive, then take the letter to the post office and mail it (see page 31 for more about letter writing). Sadly, no matter how fast you write, Nook will say you took too long.

Wall-to-Wall Service

Head back to Nook's again for your third job, delivering carpet to a neighbor. Like the last job, you will need to locate the neighbor in or outside his home and let him know you have a delivery.

Anyone Need a Watering Can?

Go back to Nook's once more. This time, you will have to deliver a watering can. Deliver the can to the correct neighbor to see the letter you wrote earlier.

The Town Bulletin Board

Return to Tom Nook's yet again for your final task. He will ask you to write an advertisement for his shop. To do this, go to the message board, select New Message and type out your message just like a letter (see page 21 for more on the bulletin board).

All in a Day's Work

Finally! You've finished all your chores and Nook has let you off the hook for good! He has also rewarded you with 1,400 bells, which will be subtracted from what you owe him for your mortgage. You are free to find your own ways to earn bells to pay off the rest of your debt, and you can buy items in Tom Nook's shop.

Quit Your Job and Live The Good Life!

Now that your work is done, why not hit the town and have some fun? The highlights of your town are presented on page 14.

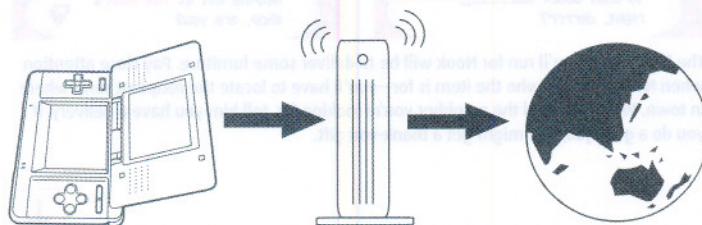

Three Ways to Connect

Animal Crossing: Wild World is a social game at heart, and to make the most of it you can reach out to other players in many locations around the globe. Getting connected is a breeze—here are three easy ways to hook up with fellow players.

1: A Wireless Router at Home

If you're one of the millions of people who have a wireless Internet connection at their home, you're all set to play Animal Crossing: Wild World over Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection. By completing a few basic steps you can get your Nintendo DS connected. (See Check Your Settings below for more information.) Most wireless routers will connect you automatically, but some may require a little tweaking. For a complete list of compatible routers, visit www.nintendowifi.com.

2: The Nintendo Wi-Fi USB Connector

If you do not own a wireless router, you can still enjoy the Wi-Fi experience—simply purchase a Nintendo Wi-Fi USB Connector (available at www.nintendo.com). After you plug the handy bit of hardware into a computer that's running Windows XP and that has broadband Internet access, you'll be ready to challenge the world.

Note: The Nintendo Wi-Fi USB Connector works only with the Nintendo DS.

3: At Hotspots

Need to get out of the house but can't bear to leave the world of Animal Crossing behind? Now you don't have to, thanks to millions of Wi-Fi hotspots across the country. Many places like coffee shops, airports and libraries offer free Wi-Fi connections to the public. Soon you'll even be able to connect at more than 6,000 McDonald's locations across the U.S. Visit www.nintendowifi.com for a list of hotspots near you.

Check Your Settings

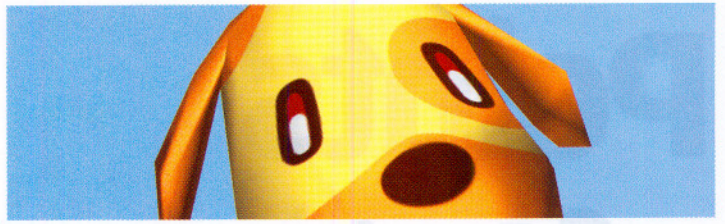

In most cases, your DS will automatically find Wi-Fi connections. If it doesn't, you can access your Wi-Fi settings within Animal Crossing: Wild World. Just select Other Things in the main menu, then choose Wi-Fi Settings to view all the different setup options for the Nintendo Wi-Fi Network (see your Animal Crossing: Wild World game manual for more information).

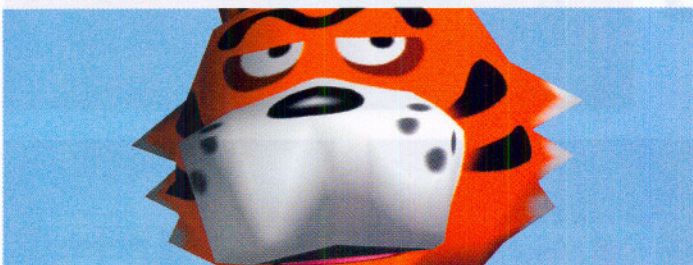

Multiplayer Fun That Spans the Globe

Now that you've set up access to the Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection, turn to page 50 to find out all the cool ways to use it in Animal Crossing: Wild World.

Community Living

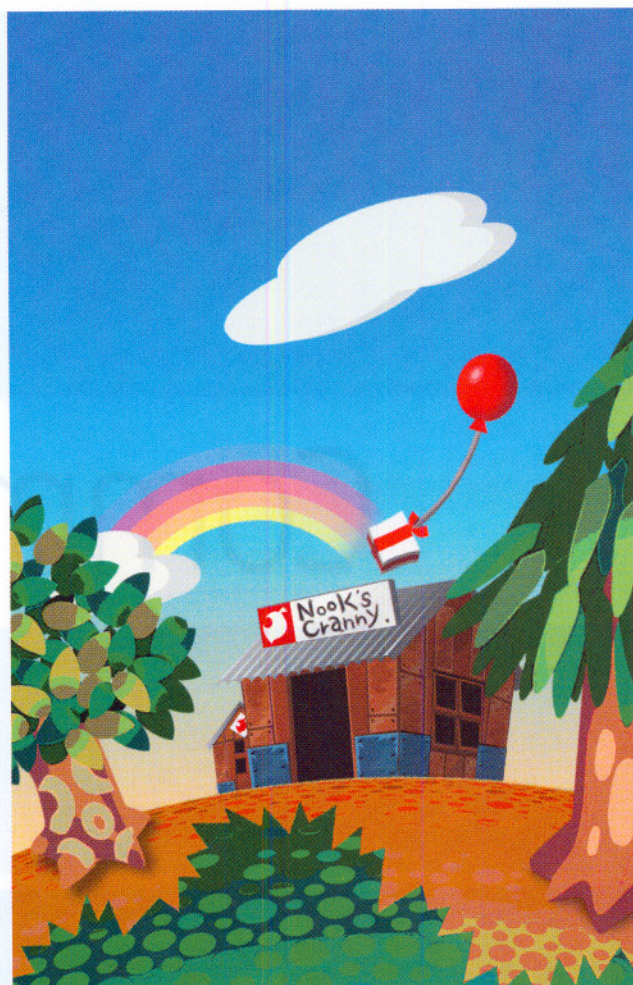

Points of Interest

If you want to put off the daily weed-pulling and turnip-watering routine, go on a walking tour of your town's famous landmarks and businesses.

Tom Nook's Shop Open 8:00am to 11:00pm 7 Days a Week

Tom Nook is your number-one source for purchasing and selling items. The more business you do with Tom Nook, the bigger his shop will get (see below for details) and the larger and more diverse the selection will be. His inventory changes all the time, so check every day for new items.

Nook's Shop Upgrades

Nook's Cranny

Tom Nook's shop will start out as a quaint general store with a small selection of items. He'll be eager for your business, because the more you spend, the sooner he can expand.

Nook 'n Go

Once you've spent 25,000 bells at Tom Nook's shop he will close the shop for a day to upgrade to a larger store with a bigger selection of items, similar to a convenience store.

Nookway

By the time you've spent 90,000 bells with Tom Nook, he will close his doors again for a day. The next upgrade will bring even more items and a better selection. The store edges toward the super-store category with the expansion to Nookway.

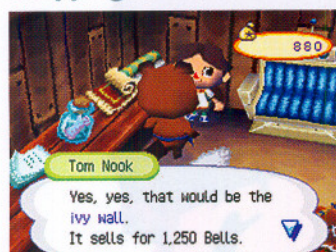

Nookington's

The final expansion will require someone who's visiting your town wirelessly to buy at least one item—this (along with your having purchased a whopping 240,000 bells worth of merchandise) will cement the popularity of Tom Nook's business, and allow him to make the final move into the high-profile and prestigious world of department stores. The new store will feature the best selection of items spread over two floors. There is even a barber shop run by Harriet inside the department store. See page 16 for more information.

Tom Nook's Hired Help

Once Tom Nook opens Nookington's, he will hire extra help. Tommy and Timmy will stand by your side and answer any questions you have about items.

Shopping for Items

Walk up to an item and face it. Double-tap it with your stylus or press the A Button. Tom Nook will describe the item and let you know the price. For wallpaper and flooring he will let you see what it looks like. Some items, like seed bags and saplings, notes in a bottle, and paint, can be purchased only at Tom Nook's shop. Once sold, most items will be out of stock for at least a day.

Tom Nook's Point System

You'll see a machine that looks like an ATM in Tom Nook's shop—this is the Point-Tracking Machine, or PTM. You will get a point for every 100 bells you spend (and on certain days you'll receive five points instead). The more points you earn, the higher your store membership status will become, which will get you store discounts and help you earn prizes for hitting milestones. See the list below for prizes.

Points Earned

Prize

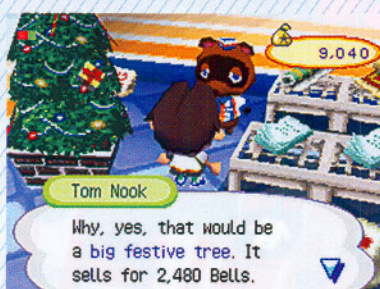

300	Nook's Cranny Model / Store Membership
3,000	Nook 'n Go Model / 5% Store Discount
10,000	Nookway Model / 10% Store Discount
20,000	Nookington's Model / 20% Store Discount

Spotlight Items

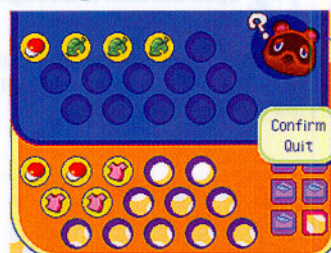

Every now and then Tom Nook will have a spotlight item in his shop. These items will be available for purchase only when Tom Nook puts them in the spotlight, so be sure to get them while you can.

Limited-Time Offers

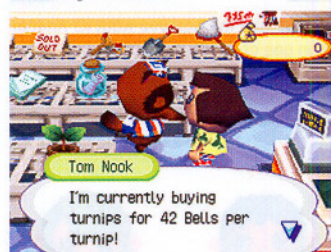

During certain times of the year Tom Nook will stock special holiday items like the festive tree and festive candle. Get them while they last!

Selling Your Items

Tom Nook will gladly purchase almost anything you have. However, he will pay only a fraction of what he'd sell it for. Tell him that you want to sell, then move the items to the top part of the screen. He'll give you a price quote that you can decide to accept or reject.

Turnip Prices

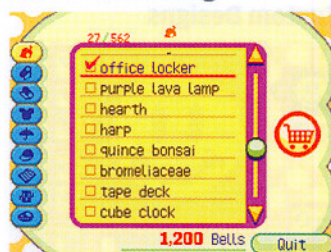

Tom Nook will buy turnips from you. The prices are always fluctuating, but you can ask Tom Nook for the going rate on any day except Sunday to make sure you get the best deal. For more information about the turnip business, turn to page 45.

More Tips on Making Money from Tom Nook

Tom Nook is your main source for earning bells. For more information on how to get paid, see page 28.

Personal Catalog

Your Personal Catalog at Tom Nook's store lets you purchase items that are not on the showroom floor. The catch is that you must have already owned the item at some point, and not all items in your catalog will be for sale. Products ordered from the catalog will be delivered to your house the next day. Check the Personal Catalog for a record of the items you've seen in the game.

Bottle Paper and Nook Paper

The only way to see the bottle paper is to purchase it at Tom Nook's shop and write a letter to drop into the ocean (see pg. 51). If you want to see Nook paper, order something from your Personal Catalog—when it arrives, a letter attached to the order will be written on Nook paper.

The Barber Shop

 Open 8:00am to 11:00pm
7 Days a Week

Once Tom Nook has expanded to the department store Nookington's, he has the extra space to let Harriet open up a barber shop. If you're tired of walking around with the same haircut or if you've been hiding your mop under a hat, maybe it's time to change up your hair style and color and create a whole new you!

Don't you hate it when the hairdresser doesn't cut your hair the way you want it? Animal Crossing's stylist, Harriet, cuts and colors your hair in one of 16 ways (eight for each gender) according to how you answer the odd-ball questions she asks you. This can be a frustrating experience at first, but with some experimentation you'll be able to control the outcome a bit better. Some examples are shown below.

The Able Sisters

 Open 8:00am to 11:00pm
7 Days a Week

The Able Sisters' shop is right next to Tom Nook's Shop. It's run by the sisters Sable and Mabel—Mabel does the talking while Sable does the sewing. They'll sell you clothing and personal accessories to wear. You can also create and display your own custom designs in the shop to see if you can start a fashion revolution.

Purchasing Items

Has your sense of style gone stale? Not to worry—the Able Sisters have a wide variety of cutting-edge shirts and umbrellas—and just about anything else your heart desires.

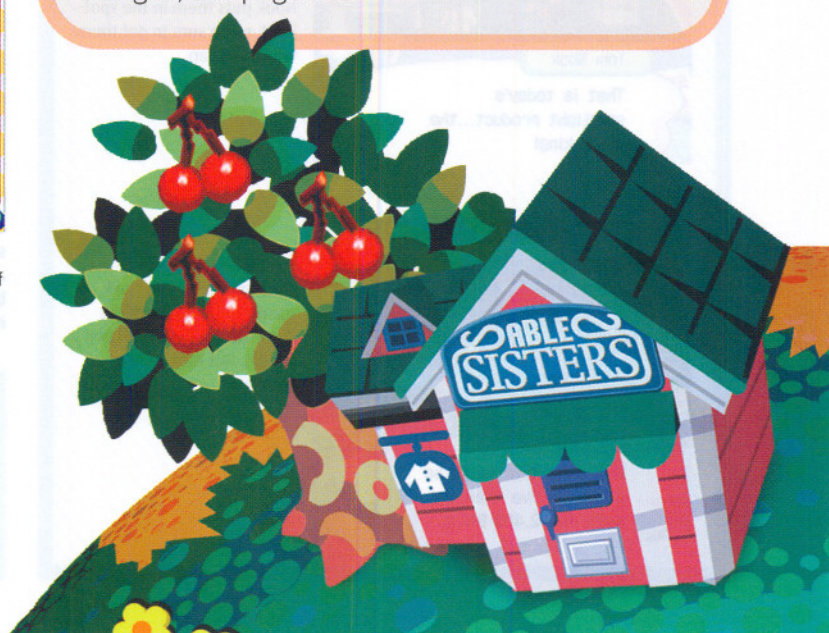

Custom Designs

Maybe you've got an artistic flair, but nowhere to use it. How about showing off your artwork on your chest? Design a cool new shirt—maybe folks around town will notice.

Wear Your Art on Your Sleeve

Cultivate your style and wear it with pride. For more information about creating custom designs, see page 60.

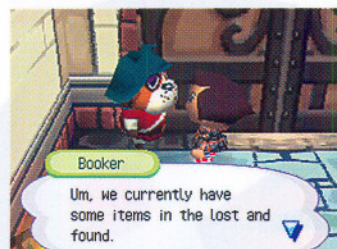

The Main Gate Open 24 Hours a Day 7 Days a Week

Has the hustle and bustle of daily life got you stressed to the max? Maybe you need a little vacation. Pack your bags and head to the main gate. Using your Wi-Fi or DS-to-DS connection, the main gate allows you to travel to another town and see how the other half lives.

Booker's Help

Booker is the soft-spoken and melancholy guard who stands on the left side of the main gate. His principal responsibilities are to watch over the lost items of the town and to implement any changes to the town flag. Booker is also a great source to find out what's happening around town—he's always in the loop when it comes to special visitors.

Lost Items

The neighbors in your town are honest enough to take lost items to Booker so that the rightful owners can get them back. However, Booker doesn't really keep track of things, so if you say the item is yours, you'll get it. It may be dishonest, but all's fair in the lost and found.

Flag Change

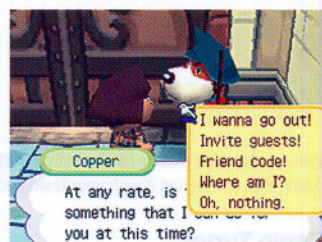

The town flag flies high at the main gate. If you don't like the pattern that is on the flag, you can make your own custom design. Just create a design at the Able Sisters' shop then talk to Booker about changing the flag. Your own custom flag will help your town feel more like home. See page 60 for more information about creating a personalized flag design.

The gate also serves as an entrance for other people to come visit your town, and is the home of your town's lost and found. It is open 24 hours a day and is guarded by Booker and Copper.

Copper the Gatekeeper

Copper is the exact opposite of his sidekick Booker—hehe is all business when it comes to protecting and serving. His duties are related to the security of the front gate. No one gets in or out of your town without his permission. You can rest easy knowing that Copper is keeping the riffraff out of your fine neighborhood!

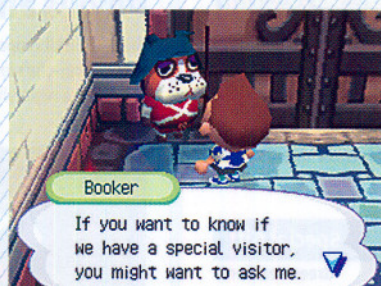

Copper is in charge of all things related to wireless play. If you want to leave your town or open your gate for a visitor from another town, simply let Copper know. He'll take care of setting it up.

Stepping Out

When you play wirelessly you can open up your town to other visitors or venture out and explore new towns. See page 50 for more info.

Visitor Information

Many special visitors come through town on randomly selected days (see page 40) so you usually have to be lucky enough to run across them. Since Booker is always watching the front gate, though, he has the scoop on who's coming to town. Check in with Booker daily to make sure you don't miss anyone.

The Town Hall Open 24 Hours a Day 7 Days a Week

The town hall is always open for your convenience. Both the civic center and the post office are located inside the town hall. At the right counter, you can conduct financial business like depositing and withdrawing funds or paying off your debt to Tom Nook and take care of all your postal needs, like mailing correspondence and managing the flood of letters you've received. At the left counter you can make donations, check the environment, change the town tune or declare you're ready to move away.

Recycling Station

Look for the green bin inside the town hall. Use the recycling bin to get rid of unwanted items. Occasionally you may find items that other people have left for recycling; there's nothing wrong with taking them for yourself!

The Civic Center Open 24 Hours a Day 7 Days a Week

The civic center (the counter to the left with the green welcoming mat) is run by Pelly. Check the quality of the environment of your town, donate to charity or let Pelly know that you've had it with your town and you would like to move.

The Environment

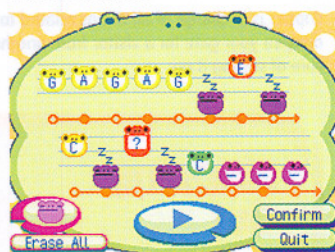

Pelly monitors the town's "spirit" in relation to the vegetation growing. She'll give you a rating of how healthy the environment is. If you have lots of weeds and many dying plants, you'll get a poor rating. If you've kept up on your gardening you'll get a high score.

Moving Out of Town

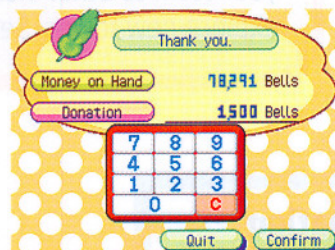

Sometimes you just don't click with the town you live in. It might be the layout of the town, or it could be your neighbors. Luckily, you can always start your life over in another town. If you let Pelly know you want to move, she'll make it happen.

Town Tunes

The town has a preset tune that plays every time you talk to someone in town. If you don't like the music, you can change it. Just move the notes up and down to compose your new hit song!

Donations

If you're feeling charitable you can make donations to the town of Boondox at the civic center. Besides making yourself feel good, you may receive exclusive gifts as rewards for how much you've donated. Check the list below for more details about donating.

Donation	Special Gift
10,000 Bells	Green Feather
200,000 Bells	Blue Feather
500,000 Bells	Yellow Feather
800,000 Bells	Red Feather
1,100,000 Bells	Purple Feather
1,400,000 Bells	White Feather
6,400,000 Bells	Rainbow Feather

Phyllis and the Night Shift

The Town Hall is open 24 hours a day, and it's too much to ask Pelly to stay there all the time—she would end up getting very grumpy. Luckily, her sister Phyllis takes over for the night shift, and will also help out if you have visitors from another town.

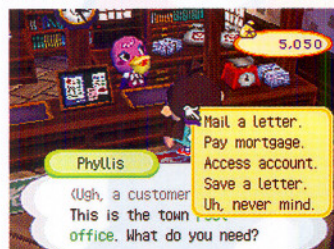

Phyllis is always in a bad mood—it must be the night hours getting to her. Whenever you ask her for help, she'll act like you're imposing on her. Don't let her sullen mood and poor customer service bother you—she treats everyone this way!

The Post Office Open 24 Hours a Day 7 Days a Week

The post office, also run by Pelly, is at the right-side desk with the red mat inside the town hall. In addition to sending out letters you have written to your friends, and storing and organizing

Mail a Letter

If you want to mail a letter that you've written, you need to give it to Pelly or Phyllis at the post office. They will make sure that Pete, the mail pelican, delivers it. See page 42 for more information on Pete and the Animal Crossing air-mail service.

Save a Letter

If you've piled up a bunch of letters from your friends and neighbors, you can store and organize them at the post office. This will keep you from having to stash them at your own house.

Access Your Account

You can hold only a limited number of bells before you'll need money bags to hold all your loot, so at some point you'll want to set up a savings account at the Post Office. Besides creating a nest egg, you'll get nice prizes for keeping certain minimum amounts in your account (see the chart to the right).

Your savings account rewards and monthly interest statements will be sent with a letter on special town hall stationery. These are the only ways to see this style of stationery.

The Town Museum Open 24 Hours a Day 7 Days a Week

You'll find Blathers running the museum in town 24 hours a day. He's a night owl (literally!), so you may find him catching some winks during daytime hours. Talk to him to make donations of bugs, fish and paintings, or to examine fossils you find. The museum holds several rooms to display different types of exhibits, and also includes an observatory and a café.

Donation

Blathers will take donations of anything the museum doesn't already have. You can donate fish, insects, paintings (as long as they aren't fakes) and fossils (once he's examined them). He'll also share his vast knowledge of creatures and artifacts with you.

Check a Fossil

When you dig up a fossil you won't know what it is until you have Blathers examine it. Once he's checked it out he will tell you what type of fossil you found, and perhaps give you the chance to donate it to the museum if it's the first specimen of its kind.

Getting Props for Your Discovery

If you donate a painting or a cockroach to the museum, the exhibit will credit you with the discovery. If you want to check what the museum has on display, talk to Blathers and choose Exhibits. You'll see a listing of all museum donations and donors.

Aquatic Creatures

The wing of the museum devoted to aquatic creatures consists of two rooms—the front room is pretty standard and contains two large fish tanks, and the back room is like a scene from the depths of the ocean, giving you total immersion into an underwater world. For a complete list of aquatic creatures see page 145.

Insects and Spiders

Insects are displayed in two rooms. One is set in a forest atmosphere, and the other is more of a tropical theme. Be warned—it's kind of creepy seeing all the bugs roaming freely without being enclosed. For a complete list of insects, see page 142.

Fossils

Fossils are displayed piece by piece as parts of the skeleton are completed. Once you've donated all the pieces, you'll be able to see your dinosaur skeleton in all its glory. There are two rooms of fossils to examine. For a complete list of the fossils, see page 148.

Paintings

The paintings section of the museum may take you a while to fill up, as paintings can be difficult to come by. The traveling merchant Redd usually has paintings for sale (see pg. 41), but they are very pricey and many are fakes. Blathers, of course, will accept only authentic paintings for display in the museum.

The Observatory

Open 24 Hours a Day
7 Days a Week

Inside the museum you'll see stairs going up to a second floor—this is where the observatory is located. It is run by Blathers's sister Celeste (who also seems to fall asleep during the day, though she won't admit it). Chat with her; she'll let you look through the powerful telescope and observe the stars.

Stargazing

If you decide to do some stargazing, you can take a look at the constellations that have been created by other people in your town, or admire the ones you created yourself. You can also see the date they were named and find out the best time to see them in the night sky.

Creating Constellations

Because Blathers bought Celeste a discounted star chart without constellations, she lets visitors create new constellations and name them. Just connect the dots to create a constellation, and name it Big Ugly—or whatever strikes your fancy!

Get the Museum Model

The roommate who stocks the museum with the most fish, paintings, fossils and insects will be rewarded with the museum model—a fitting memento to commemorate your commitment to the arts and sciences.

Share Your Stars with the World

If you name a constellation, people all over the world can see it in the sky. Turn to page 52 for more info.

The Roost Open 24 Hours a Day 7 Days a Week

If you're looking for a cool place to hang out and drink (virtual) coffee, The Roost is your place. Located within the museum, this cafe is a popular meeting place where all the locals go to relax and socialize, plus some out-of-townners will stop by once in a while. The Roost is run by a bird named Brewster, who is a master barista.

Folks, Give It Up for K.K. Slider!

Be sure to visit The Roost on Saturday nights. K.K. Slider has a weekly gig that starts at 7:30pm (though he won't take requests until 8:00). You can just take in the good music, or you can make requests. For more information about the legendary K.K. Slider, see page 40.

If you sit down at the bar, Brewster will pour you a cup of joe. Don't take the time to let it cool down—Brewster will get offended if you don't drink his brew right away. The more you hang out with Brewster, the more he will warm up to you and become chatty.

Haven't We Met Somewhere Before?

A familiar roaming traveler sometimes stops by The Roost for a visit. Turn to page 46 for details.

The Bulletin Board Available 24 Hours a Day 7 Days a Week

You'll find the town bulletin board near the town hall. Messages for the residents of your burg will be posted here. Like Booker at the gate, the bulletin board will usually have information posted about any major goings-on within your town. A message will show the date it was posted, as well as who posted it.

The bulletin board's not just for your neighbors—you can write messages on it, too! Got something you need to get off your chest? Share a poem, make an announcement, or tell the world how you feel with a post on the bulletin board.

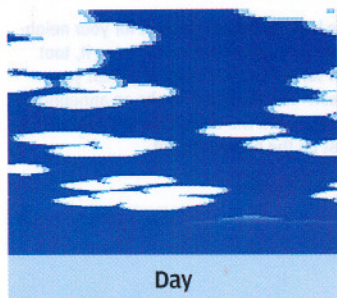

Neighborhood Activities

Fishing, gardening, bug-hunting—there's always something fun to do in Animal Crossing: Wild World. Here are a few helpful tips to get you started.

As Time Goes By

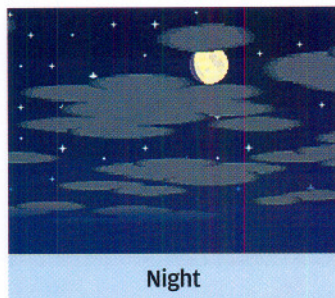

Time stops for no one in Animal Crossing. Many important events occur only at certain hours of the day or on certain days of the year. Even the type of wildlife you encounter depends on the season or the time of day. Check in every day to make sure you don't miss anything!

The Difference Is Night and Day

Day

Daytime is busytime for your town. Neighbors are out and about, and the majority of activities and events take place during the day, just like real life.

Night

As the sun sets, businesses will close and most townsfolk will go to sleep. If you go for an evening stroll, you might run into the occasional night owl.

The Right Tools for the Job

If you want to get the most out of your life, you're going to need lots of tools. Luckily, Tom Nook's shop has just about everything you'll ever need. He carries only a few tools at a time, though, so if he doesn't have that slingshot you covet, check back another day.

The Seasons of the Year

Spring

Spring is a vibrant time when vegetation comes to life, and you may even spot an occasional rainbow. Don't miss the Flower Fest, where you can win special prizes.

Summer

Summer means lots of sunshine . . . and lots of bugs! The Bug-Off competitions take place during this time of the year, and fireworks shows will be held as well.

Fall

Leaves start to change color and float from the trees during the fall. It's also time for the annual Acorn Festival, where you can trade in acorns for rare furniture.

Winter

As the year winds down, your town becomes a winter wonderland. Make snowmen and enjoy the Bright Nights, when neighbors decorate their houses.

The Basics of Fishing

There's nothing like a day of fishing. Of course, it's not much fun if you can't catch any fish! After you purchase a fishing rod from Tom Nook, take some time to practice casting your line—it's harder than it seems. If you're lucky enough to nab a fish, you can sell it to Tom

How and Where to Cast

To have success fishing, you've got to go where the fish are. When you see a shadow in a river or lake, approach the water slowly and cast your line using the touch screen or the A Button. If there is a current, be sure to cast upstream so your bait and lure travel toward the fish, not away from them.

Nook (prices vary) or donate it to the museum. There are dozens of types of fish, depending on the season. For a complete rundown of the different breeds of fish and their selling prices, see page 145.

When and How to Reel 'Em In

Timing is crucial: if you're overanxious and tug the line out early, you'll miss the fish; but if you wait too long, the fish will swim away with your bait. Notice when your lure bobs underwater. Once the fish has taken the bait, hold the A Button or press and hold the touch screen continually until the fish is caught.

Favorite Fishing Spots

Different types of fish prefer different types of water. Certain fish can be caught in rivers and other types can be caught in ponds. And sometimes you'll catch something besides fish: garbage! If you do haul in some refuse, drop it off at the recycling bin in the town hall.

Waterfall

The river that runs through your town starts at this scenic waterfall. It's the only place to catch the large char.

Main Pond

The river will create a pond in your town. The fish there include catfish, giant snakeheads and pond smelt.

River's Mouth

The river's mouth is at the end of your town's river, which is located in a random area in each game. You can catch salmon and king salmon there.

Ocean

Many strange and beautiful types of fish live in the ocean, such as the coelacanth, jellyfish and barred knifejaw.

Holding Pond

The holding pond is a small enclosed pool in town. You can find killifish, crawfish and frogs there.

River

The river runs straight through the middle of your town. It's home to many types of fish, including carp, angelfish and rainbow trout.

Get the Golden Rod

Catching every type of fish can be daunting and time-consuming, but if you pull off the amazing feat, Tortimer will reward you with the golden fishing rod, which increases the "reel in" time by five seconds.

Enter the Fishing Tournament

Take your fishing skills to the fishing tournaments held five times a year—you can win a trophy. See the calendar of events on the poster for more info.

Buggin' Out

You can find bugs all over town, at any time of the day or night. To start collecting the creepy critters, though, you must first purchase a net from Tom Nook's shop. Bugs can be even harder to catch than fish, as they respond much more to movement and are much easier to frighten away. Luckily, there are so many bugs in your town that if you lose one there's sure to be another right around the corner.

Get the Golden Net

If you catch every bug in the game, Tortimer will reward you with the golden net, which is twice the size of the normal net, making bug-catching twice as easy.

Where the Bugs Roam

It's hard to take five steps in Animal Crossing without bumping into a common bug. Locating the rare ones, however, is a different story. Below is a complete accounting of areas where different types of bugs hang out, including cicadas, grasshoppers and crickets.

On the Ground

Watch where you're stepping, bub—there might be a valuable insect under your feet! Grasshoppers and crickets both live on the ground, and they're not easy to catch—you have to run after these quick critters.

On Flowers

Flowers can attract insects like ladybugs or the rare orchid mantis. Brightly-colored blossoms can sometimes camouflage the critters, however, so watch for movement as you pass by.

On Trees

Some bugs, like cicadas, will rest on the tree trunks, just below the leaves. Keep an eye out—they can be difficult to spot and they require a sneak attack.

Near Lights

Anyone who has ever cleaned a porch light can tell you that bugs are attracted to light. If you're out for a late-night stroll, keep an eye out for insects buzzing around street lamps and outdoor house lights.

In the Air

The most common bugs, such as butterflies and dragonflies, can be found flying in the air. Flying insects require you to chase them—except the mosquito, which will come after you!

Near Water

Like people, insects are drawn to the water during the hot summer months. In June, see if you can spot some rare fireflies near the water after dark.

Make sure you have a net in hand. Some bugs require you to perform a sneak attack, and others require you to run. When you get close enough you must act quickly. With the net equipped, use the touch screen or the A Button to catch the insect.

Why Don't You Just Bug-Off?

Show off your bug skills in the annual Bug-Off tournament, where you can compete for trophies and rare prizes. See the calendar of events for more info.

Extreme Bug-Hunting

Not all bugs are buzzing around out in the open. Many insects hide in dark places, like beneath rocks or underground, while others won't show up at all unless you set out bait for them. To catch the shy guys, prepare to use your wits (or at least some old turnips), cross

By Setting Traps

Wondering what to do with those rotten turnips you forgot to sell? Don't throw them out—use stinky old turnips to attract ants and cockroaches (please don't try this at home!).

Under Rocks

Many creepy crawlers like to lurk in the dank shadows under a rock. Take your shovel and whack one of the many boulders in your town—you might be rewarded with a startled pill bug.

Underground

If you're ever out on a hike and you hear a strange chirping, follow the sound. When the chirping is at its loudest, start digging in the dirt to unearth a valuable (and loud) mole cricket.

In Trees

When you shake a tree, you can often find money bags and gifts, but it's also a good way to find spiders or other creepy-crawlies. If you dislodge a beehive, though, you'd better net your haul quickly to avoid a nasty sting.

I Caught a Bunch of Bugs and Fish—Now What?

Wondering what to do with your big catch? You can always free any insects or fish you find, but here are some better (and usually more profitable) options for what to do with your growing wildlife collection.

Use the Timer

Purchase the timer at Tom Nook's Shop to keep a tally of the bugs and fish you catch. To find out more about the timer, see page 52.

Donate Them

Give the insect or fish to Blathers—he will put it on display at the museum. See page 19 for more information.

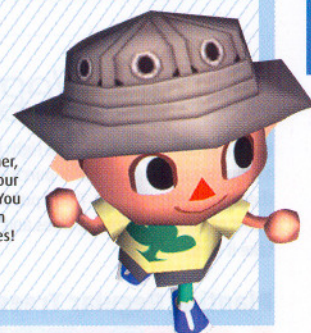

Sell Them

Tom Nook will purchase bugs and fish, and the rarer they are, the more money you'll get. See page 28 for more information.

Build Your Own Museum

When you drop a bug or fish inside your house it will have its own container, so you can display your finds in your home. You can live in a museum just like Blathers does!

Up, Up and Away!

Once in a while, you might spot a balloon floating by on the top screen. If you've purchased a slingshot from Tom Nook's shop, you can use it to shoot balloons out of the sky to earn collectible gifts. Here are some sharp-shooting slingshot tips.

Equip your character with the slingshot and carefully line up beneath the drifting balloon—you can shoot only one shot at a time, so timing is critical for success. If you pop the balloon, the present will fall to the ground for you to collect.

The Animal Crossing Air Patrol

You'll see more than balloons floating in the air—watch for special visitors like Pete and Gulliver to fly by on your top screen. See pages 42 and 45 for more information.

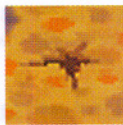

Get the Golden Slingshot

After you shoot 15 items out of the sky, you will be rewarded with the golden slingshot (if you can shoot it out of the sky!). It fires three shots at a time in a spread pattern, and will greatly improve your chances of shooting down objects from the sky.

Digging Up Buried Treasure

Feeling a bit pirate-ish today? Grab a shovel, matey, and start hunting for buried treasure around your town. Small stars mark the spots where something is buried. Purchase a shovel from Tom Nook's shop and use it to uncover fossils, Gyroids and all sorts of surprises. You can also use the shovel to bury your own items in the ground or to plant a tree.

Fossils

When you first find a fossil, it looks like a blue disc. Once you have it appraised, however, you can sell it to Tom Nook or donate it to the museum. See page 148 for a complete list of fossils.

Gyroids

Like fossils, you'll find Gyroids only buried underground. You can display the unique animated items in your home or sell them to Tom Nook. See page 152 for a complete list of Gyroids. Once sold, Gyroids cannot be repurchased.

Multiplayer Fun with Burying Things

When you're traveling between towns, you can set up treasure hunts or traps for your friends. (See page 49 for more information.)

Get the Golden Shovel

The golden shovel is a real money-maker—you can use it to bury money bags and grow money trees! The larger the sum of money you inter, the greater the chance the money tree will bear fruit. It's pretty easy to get the golden shovel—just bury a shovel in the ground and leave it there for a full day (but make sure you have a second shovel so you can dig it up). A money tree will take about a week to reach maturity.

Planting Vegetation

Have a green thumb? With the right tools and a little planning, you can turn your town into a plant-lover's paradise. Just purchase some seeds or saplings from Tom Nook and plant them wherever you like. Try to put a little thought into the visual presentation, keeping paths open when planting trees and flowers—you want vegetation to accent your town, not take it over.

Planting Regular Trees

There are two types of tree saplings available at Tom Nook's store: regular and cedar. If you see a brown spot on the ground, plant a sapling to add some green to your town. Don't plant too many, though, or it will impede foot traffic.

Planting Flowers

Planting flowers is a great way to attract valuable bugs and improve your town's popularity—plus they just look nice! You can buy seeds at Tom Nook's or dig up wild flowers from around town and replant them in a new spot. They will bloom year-round with the proper care. With a little experimentation it is also possible to cross-fertilize flowers to create new colors.

Planting Fruit Trees

Harvesting fruit is a great way to make a living in Animal Crossing, and the more fruit trees you have, the more money you can make. Pick some fruit from one of the existing fruits trees in your town, bury it in the soil, and wait for a tiny fruit-tree sapling to sprout. In a few days, your tree will mature and bear fruit.

What's This? A Coconut?

Occasionally a coconut will make its way from a tropical island onto your beach. Collect the coconut and bury it in the ground along the beach to grow your own coconut palm. You can start an orchard and sell the fruit to Tom Nook.

Join the Flower Fest During the Month of April

Take part in the Flower Fest during April to see who can create the best garden. Consult the calendar of events on the poster for more info.

How Does Your Garden Grow?

Gardening isn't easy—plants require constant care. The watering can (available at Tom Nook's shop) is essential to following through with your planting projects. The following are some useful gardening tips to help you get the most out of your efforts.

Drink Up

Newly planted flowers need lots of water. If they start to turn brown and wither away, you need to use the watering can more often (rain also affects plant growth). Equip the watering can and press the A Button (or tap with the stylus) near a flower or sapling to water it.

Get the Golden Can

If you can keep the environment perfect for 16 days in a row, Pelly or Phyllis will reward you with the golden can.

Walk, Don't Run

Hey—watch where you're running, kid! Flowers are very delicate, and can easily get trampled by people sprinting through them. Make sure you slow down when approaching a flower bed—the garden you save may be your own!

A Clear Case for Clear-Cutting

Everyone loves trees, but sometimes you can have too much of a good thing. To make space to move around in your town, you'll occasionally have to down a few trees with your axe. Don't worry—you can always plant a new tree in a less-populated area of town.

Whack Those Weeds

Weed pulling is one of your most important jobs in Animal Crossing. If you don't stay on top of them, weeds will soon take over your town. To eliminate these pests, get near them and press the B Button to pull them out of the ground.

Such Pretty Weeds

If you let your town go too long without weeding, you'll see a giant rafflesia bloom. You can't pull or dig them up—simply clean away any other weeds and garbage, and wait for the rafflesia to disappear. (However, if you want to catch flies, hang around the rafflesia before the flowers disappear.)

Does Your Town Need a Checkup?

If you're wondering what kind of shape your town is in, check with Pelly—she'll give you the lowdown on your town's condition. (Phyllis will deliver the same information, though in a much harsher tone!)

Get the Golden Axe

If you meet up with the philosopher Pascal (the red guy shown below) at the beach, he will let you trade in a scallop seashell for the golden axe, which doesn't break from usage like a regular axe. See page 42 for further detail.

Making a Quick Bell

Running short on bells? Here are some quick money-making tips to help you start raking in the moolah.

Dig It Up

Fossils are some of the most valuable items you can dig up, but you must get them appraised before you sell them. Gyroids, on the other hand, can be sold right away for big bells.

Fish It Out

If you've got lots of patience and a steady hand, fishing can be a good way to make big-time money—rare catches like stringfish or coelacanth can earn you up to 15,000 bells apiece!

Shake It Out

Gathering fruit is one of the easiest ways to earn cash. Tom Nook will give you 100 bells for each piece of fruit you bring him from the trees native to your town, and 500 bells for fruit you've harvested after planting a foreign fruit. Trees can hold a lot more than just fruit, though—sometimes a good tree-shaking can net you a bag of bells or even a piece of furniture!

Watch Out for That Bee!

When shaking trees, watch out for beehives. If you see one, run into a building to avoid getting stung. If you suffer a sting, your face will turn into a hideous, swollen mess, which may frighten your neighbors. Medicine from Tom Nook's shop will help you heal, or you can simply save and restart your game to heal fully.

Use a Net

Instead of donating that rare bug you caught to some musty old museum, why not sell it to Tom Nook for some cold, hard bells? His store will pay handsomely for rare bugs (and a decent price for the common type, too).

Smack a Rock

If you smack a rock with your shovel, it might kick out a bag of money. If it does, keep hitting it like crazy until it runs dry. Smacking rocks is a great way to earn cash.

Shoot It Down

If you see a balloon with a gift tied to it floating in the sky, you're not going nuts—it's just your lucky day! Shoot the balloon with your slingshot and cash in your present (usually a rare item) at Tom Nook's shop for a hefty sum of beautiful bells.

Who Sells Seashells?

Another easy way to earn bells is to sell seashells from down by the seashore (try saying that three times fast!). A few hours after you have picked up the shells, more will wash up on the shore, so check back later. Many of the shells look the same, but they go by different names and sell for wildly differing prices, so pay close attention.

Type of Shell	Price*	Type of Shell	Price*
Conch	350 Bells	Sand Dollar	60 Bells
Coral	250 Bells	Scallop	600 Bells
Dall's Top	90 Bells	Venus Comb	150 Bells
Pearl Oyster	1,200 Bells	White Scallop	450 Bells
Porcelletta	30 Bells

* Tom Nook's buying price

Search for the Secret Scallop

The scallop is one of the most valuable shells and it's the only way you'll get the golden axe from Pascal. To obtain the scallop, first purchase a red turnip from Joan and plant it in the ground for a day. Then dig up that turnip and feed it to Wendell. If he gives you the turban, trade it to Saharah for the massage chair, then trade the massage chair to Mayor Tortimer for the scallop. Whew! See page 40 to find out when all these folks will visit your town.

Foreign-Fruit Fandango

Tom Nook is a foreign-fruit freak. He will pay big money for different fruit from another town, so if you go on a trip to another land, be sure to bring some back. Instead of cashing the fruit in right away, though, plant some and start your own exotic-fruit orchard—you'll soon be rolling in bells!

The Turnip Trade

Turnip trading (buying turnips and reselling for a profit) is a tough racket—you've got to know when to hold 'em, and know when to sell 'em before they rot. You can also try planting red turnips and growing them yourself. The bigger they get, the more Tom Nook will pay for them. See page 45 for more information.

Special Events, Special Visitors

Taking part in special events and activities, such as the Acorn Festival or the Bug-Off competition, can earn you valuable prizes (see the calendar of events for more info). Also keep an eye out for special visitors that will give you rare items. Gracie, for instance, will give you expensive shirt patterns. To learn more about these visitors and when they appear, see page 40.

Dumpster Diving

Another neighbor's garbage can be your gold mine! Check out the recycling bin at City Hall for discarded items you can resell to Tom Nook. Another place where you can occasionally find free stuff is the lost and found at the main gate (tended by Booker). Finders keepers!

The Import/Export Business

If you plan on visiting another town, be sure to bring some of your local fruit with you to sell ("exotic" fruit always goes for a lot), then bring some of the foreign products back home and start an orchard or sell it to Tom Nook for a bundle of bells.

Don't Be a Miser—Spread the Love (and the Bells)

Now that you've mastered the art of moneymaking in Animal Crossing, you may find yourself in the enviable position of having more bells than you know what to do with. Instead of wasting your dough on another silly hat (do you really need three pirate hats?), why not share with the less fortunate?

Give the Newbies a Helping Hand

Give your new roommate the house-warming gift everyone loves: money! Attach a money bag to a letter and mail it to your roommate—he might return the favor someday.

The Big Payoff

Don't forget your housing debt to Tom Nook. Whenever you get an extra bunch of bells, make a house payment to Pelly at the bank. Even though the bank won't ever come to collect on your debt, it's a good idea to pay off the loan as soon as possible so you can expand your home.

Forming Friendships

It pays to have a good-neighbor policy in Animal Crossing—if you are nice to folks, they are usually nice to you. Here are some easy ways to win friends and influence animals in your town.

Introduce Yourself

When you arrive in town, the first thing you should do is meet your new neighbors. (Tom Nook even makes it a job requirement!) You can check the map to see where everyone is living. If you do a good job of keeping your fellow citizens happy in your town and making it a nice place to live, even more folks will move into the neighborhood. When you do get new residents, be sure to go over and welcome them to town.

As you start to introduce yourself you will realize every neighbor has a unique personality. They may ask you some strange questions, like what your birthday and blood type are, but that is just their way of getting to know you.

Taking the Time to Listen

Be sure to visit every character in your neighborhood and check in with them on a regular basis to bolster the sense of community that will keep your neighbors happy about living in your town. Sometimes it will just be random conversation, but it is still important to listen. Below are some examples of conversations you will have with your neighbors.

Idle Chitchat and Drama

If your neighbors just want to talk, encourage it. Sometimes there is nothing much to say, but oftentimes they will share basic town information or offer good advice, like how to make bells or how to accomplish tasks. They may even get very personal with you and let you in on some of the complex drama going on in their life. This is a sign that you are becoming close friends with your neighbor.

Opinions and Tastes

Talking to your neighbors will sometimes reveal their likes and dislikes. A towny might tell you that he's looking for a certain series of furniture. If you can find it for him, your neighbor will reward you. Occasionally neighbors will ask you for their opinion on things. Give an honest answer and see how they react.

The Chase Is On

As you walk around getting to know your neighbors, once in a while a neighbors expression will change and he will chase you down. Talk to him and take the time to listen to what he has to say. If you are kind to them or answer a question, you might receive a gift.

Just Stay Out of It

Every now and then you will come across a few neighbors who have started their own conversations. (You can tell by the expressions over their heads.) You can walk up and press the talk button to eavesdrop. Sometimes you'll overhear gossip, other times you'll witness a fight and sometimes your neighbors will include you in the conversation.

Hangin' with the Neighbors

The folks in your town can do more than just stand around and talk all day—they like to go out and do stuff just like you do. There are many different things you can do with your neighbors, like write letters, trade furniture and other collectible items, and even compete in contests against each other. Below are a few samples of activities you can partake in with your Animal Crossing pals. Now get out there and start socializing!

Write a Letter and Get a Response

To get the most out of Animal Crossing, you will have to perfect your letter-writing skills. For best results, keep your letters well-written and try to include extra touches like hearts and music notes. Send out letters to as many neighbors as possible as often as you can to create a strong sense of community. Of course, attaching a gift doesn't hurt, either!

If you compose polite, well-written letters and you've been generous with gifts, you'll likely receive an appreciative note or be thanked the next time you see the object of your good will. You may even receive a gift in return, and your pen pal may show off the letter to other people. Your mom will also send you the occasional letter. Moms are good that way.

Trades and Quests

Sometimes neighbors will want something specific. If they see that you have a particular item, they may offer you a trade for it. Even if you do not want the item, you should consider taking the offer. If you don't have the item, track it down for your neighbor—the reward may be worth the extra effort.

There Can Be Only One!

Every now and then, you might run into a neighbor who thinks he is the best at fishing or bug catching. In fact, he might even challenge you to a fishing or bug catching contest. Win the contest to receive a gift. If you lose or tie, though, you will have to try again.

Have a Happy Birthday!

Many of your neighbors will remember your birthday and give you gifts on your special day. (And, of course, your mom will always send a letter with a gift.) Your neighbors have birthdays too, so be sure to check the bulletin board for birthday announcements. Your neighbors will have a party at their house, so don't forget to bring a present.

Lending a Helping Hand

Neighbors will often ask you to run errands for them, like picking up medicine or retrieving an item they lent to a friend. Sometimes, though, these seemingly simple tasks will have you running all over town.

More Tips on Neighborly Activities

Turn to page 32 for a complete list of possible neighbors and their personalities, as well as tips on interacting with them.

Don't Forget to Wave

If you want to maintain a good friendship with your neighbors (or rack up a few brownie points with them) be sure to wave to them before and after having a conversation. If you're in a hurry, you can just wave as you pass by—simply tap on the neighbor while your character is standing at a distance.

Friends and Neighbors

Your town is full of colorful characters. Chosen at random from the group below, each of your neighbors will interact with you in their own unique style—some are friendly, some are rude and some are downright weird. We've compiled all of the possible neighbors here, including their personality types, the tag phrases they like to use and a personal quote from each one. Find out which neighbors to meet and which ones to avoid.

Is Anyone Home?

Everyone in Animal Crossing has busy lives, so if you stop by to visit a neighbor, he might not be home. Don't fret—your animal pal is probably just out socializing and will be back soon.

A Message on the Door

When a neighbor is out, he will leave a message to let you know he's gone. You can't enter your neighbor's house when he's not home, so don't even try!

Find the Neighbor

If you need to get in touch with your neighbor and he's not at home, go for a stroll—you might bump into him around town.

ANIMAL CROSSING: WILD WORLD 33

Come and Knock on Our Door

Socializing with your friends may have gotten you in trouble in school, but it's an essential part of life in Animal Crossing. Take the time to visit your neighbors and learn their likes and dislikes—you'll gain important game tips, and you might even make a new friend.

Learn from the Experts

When you visit your neighbors, be sure to study the style and layout of their homes—you can learn a lot from these interior-design experts!

Be a Good Neighbor

Sometimes you'll be able to invite your neighbors over to your place, too. They'll appreciate your hospitality and they might even give you some decorating tips.

It Takes All Types

Just like in real life, one of the challenges in Animal Crossing is to deal with wildly differing personalities. Luckily, our crack team of animal-personality experts has carefully studied all of your neighbors and placed them in six different categories for your convenience: snooty (a little self absorbed), cranky (complains all the time), peppy (full of energy), jock (always active and on the go), lazy (lets the world pass them by) and normal.

No matter how nice you are to them, some of your neighbors will always be rude to you. Don't take it personally—they treat everyone like that!

Drake

Personality: Lazy
Tag Phrase: "quacko"
"Got any snacks on you?"

Dizzy

Personality: Lazy
Tag Phrase: "woo-oo"
"Keep it mellow."

Drift

Personality: Jock
Tag Phrase: "brah"
"Always go for the gold!"

Wart Jr.

Personality: Cranky
Tag Phrase: "grr-ribbit"
"I've got my eye on you."

Animal Talk

As you chat with your fellow townspeople, you will notice that each one likes to use a particular phrase at the end of sentences. This "tag phrase" can sometimes give you a glimpse of a character's personality type.

Lucy

By the way, what do you need from me, snooink?

Antonio

Hola!!!...right?

Sometimes your neighbors will ask you to help think of a new tag phrase for them. If it's catchy, you might hear more of your neighbors using it around town.

Puddles

Personality: Peppy
Tag Phrase: "splish"
"HIP HOP HO! Hey, let's go!"

Jeremiah

If You've Got It, Flaunt It!

Everyone in Animal Crossing has a unique sense of fashion (some more "unique" than others!). Try to put together an original style—if your neighbors take notice, they might start copying your trends.

When you first meet your neighbors they will be wearing their favorite clothes, but as time goes by you will see them trying out different outfits.

Amelia

Personality: Snooty
Tag Phrase: "cuz"
"Pampering yourself is as important as food, water, and shelter!"

Pierce

Personality: Jock
Tag Phrase: "hawkeye"
"Nobody likes flabby wings."

Aurora

Tag Phrase: "honeybun"
"I'm trying out a new earstyle here."

Pippy

Personality: Peppy
Tag Phrase: "li'l hare"
"HOPPING HOTCAKES!"

The Timely Types

Neighbors are active during different times of the day. Most keep the usual nine-to-five routine, but a few prefer to work the night shift. You'll often find these night-owl types wandering your town late at night.

Tiffany

Personality: Snooty
Tag Phrase: "bun bun"
"What's up, bunbun?"

Genji

Personality: Jock
Tag Phrase: "otaku"
"Hai-ya!"

"I could eat you for breakfast, short stack!"

Whitney

Personality: Snooty
Tag Phrase: "snappy"
"If you even THINK about crossing me, just think about these pearly whites!"

Adios, Amigo!

Folks will come and go in your town, but they are more likely to stick around if you help make it a nice place to live. Pulling weeds, planting trees and being friendly to your neighbors are good ways to ensure a healthy-sized population.

A Goodbye Letter

When a neighbor leaves town he will send you a goodbye letter to let you know that he's gone (sniff sniff).

Forget Me Not

If you are a good friend to a neighbor, that neighbor might give you a photo of himself. If your pal leaves your town, the picture will remind you of your friendship.

Vesta

Personality: Normal
Tag Phrase: "baaaffo"
"I'm so lucky to have this wool coat!"

Baabara

Personality: Snooty
Tag Phrase: "daahling"
"I'm so soft that I don't even need a pillow!"

Blaire

Personality: Snooty
Tag Phrase: "nutlet"
"My tail looks extra fluffy in this picture."

Filbert

Personality: Lazy
Tag Phrase: "bucko"
"Don't go nuts or anything."

Nibbles

Personality: Peppy
Tag Phrase: "niblet"
"Coming soon to a billboard near you!"

Agent S

Personality: Peppy
Tag Phrase: "sidekick"
"I'm gonna, like, save the world!"

Special Visitors

You never know who might drop by in Animal Crossing—sometimes it will be a hungry walrus, other times a guitar-playing pup. Here is a complete guest list, including information on when and where you're most likely to bump into these vagabonds.

K.K. Slider 7:30pm to 12:00am Every Saturday night in The Roost

Once a poor street musician relegated to impromptu performances outside the train station, K.K. Slider now has a regular gig every Saturday night at the museum café The Roost. With a diverse selection of song styles, this musical mutt can play everything from tear-jerker ballads to bombastic heavy-metal anthems. Kick back with a cup of joe and enjoy the unique vocal stylings of the Prince Pup of Pop, K.K. Slider.

K.K. Slider's Picture

If you give K.K. Slider the right gift, he'll present you with a picture of himself. See page 44 for more information.

Making Requests

K.K. Slider is no doggy diva—he plays for the people. He will gladly take song requests to please his loyal fans. Of course, a request has to be a song he knows! Luckily, we've provided you with a complete list of all his greatest hits, some of which he'll play only as special requests. Just type in the name of the tune—K.K. Slider will kick out the jams.

Redd

Arrives at 6:00am and stays for 24 hours (tent closes at 12:00am)
Randomly chosen day from Monday to Friday (ask Booker for specifics)

Redd is a shady character who runs a traveling black market. He appears on random weekdays with a fresh set of merchandise for sale in his tent. Redd deals in hard-to-find collectibles, some of which are available only through him. As you'd expect, the prices are sky-high, and you even need a password to view his collection. If you're determined to get that ultrarare opulent painting, though, here are a few tips to help you deal with the felonious fox. Many of Redd's items will eventually be available at Tom Nook's Shop for a lower price.

If you'd like to enter Redd's tent and view his selection of rare items for purchase, you'll need a password. Ask around town to obtain the password, then use it to answer Redd's question. Once you're inside the tent, you'll have the option to join Redd's Membership (the fee is 3,000 bells). If you do, the letters he sends you will contain the password, and you'll have unlimited access to the tent.

Crazy Like a Fox

Redd is a bit on the paranoid side—he keeps his most prized possessions locked away in a safe. If you'd like to do the same, see page 44 to find out how.

Redd and Lyle: Partners in Crime?

It appears Redd has a "business arrangement" with Lyle, the insurance salesman (see page 42). If you talk to Lyle, he'll ask you what day of the week you'd like Redd to make his visits, making it easier for you to plan for his arrival in advance.

Fox Paper

When you join Redd's Membership he will send you the password to enter his tent—it'll be written on special fox paper. This paper is for members only, so be sure to sign up!

Counterfeit Capers

Most paintings can be purchased only from Redd. Unfortunately, Redd often deals with forgeries, so you won't know if it's the real thing or a worthless reproduction until you have Blathers check its authenticity. See page 19 for more info.

Pete On the top screen at 9:00am and 5:00pm Random day from Monday to Friday

Through rain, sleet or snow, Pete the pelican can occasionally be seen flying high above your town, faithfully delivering your mail. Watch your top screen and listen for the sound clue to catch this hard-working public servant making his mail rounds. Keep up the good work, Pete!

Feeling like going postal? If you happen to catch Pete flying across the screen, you can use your slingshot to shoot him down. Poor Pete!

Lyle In front of your house from 6:00am to 6:00pm Every Saturday

Are you accident-prone? Maybe you should invest in some Animal Crossing insurance from your town's top (and only) insurance agent, Lyle. You'll get settlements in the mail for bee stings and painting forgeries. Additionally, Lyle can help you establish a specific day of the week for Redd, the black-market furniture salesman, to come through town—your real-life insurance doesn't do that, does it?

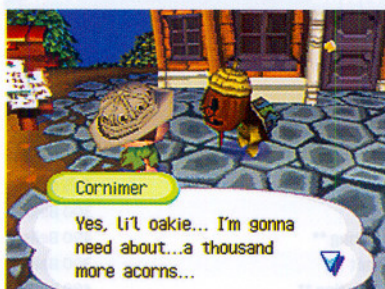

These insurance folks sure are pushy.

Insurance Paper

When you get your settlement in the mail, you'll receive the special insurance paper. This is the only way to see the rare stationery.

Cornimer 24 hours a day during the Acorn Festival The second week of October

Cornimer is a mysterious character who visits during the second week of October to run the Acorn Festival. He wears an acorn mask to get in the spirit of things and hangs out in front of the town hall waiting for people to take part in the festivities. No one knows Cornimer's secret identity, although he does bear a striking resemblance to a certain shell-backed mayor.

You can sell the acorns you collect to Tom Nook. (He'll pay 100 bells per acorn.) However, you are better off collecting them and giving them to Cornimer—he will reward you with rare and valuable items from the Mushroom series of furniture. However, Cornimer won't accept rotten acorns. If you offer them to him, he'll take your entire acorn stash instead and will give you no gift.

Check the calendar of events on the foldout poster to find out more about what goes on during the Acorn Festival each October.

Pascal Appears randomly between 6:00am and 12:00am Random day from Monday to Friday (ask Booker for specifics)

Pascal is a furry philosopher who randomly appears on the beach once a week. He'll hop out of the water and share some unsolicited deep thoughts with you. When he's finally done pontificating, he'll dive back into the water, but before he leaves he will give you a nice gift—a piece of Pirate-theme furniture. Nothing says "philosophy" quite like a pirate keg.

Listening to Pascal's long, crazy rants may be a challenge, but your patience will be rewarded with a great gift.

Get the Axe!

Did your axe break again? Pascal can hook you up with the unbreakable golden axe—if you give him the right gift. See page 44 for more details.

Saharah 6:00am to 12:00am Random day from Monday to Friday (ask Booker for specifics)

On any random weekday, Saharah will visit your town carrying a bundle of rare wallpaper and flooring. She'll be wandering around aimlessly, so you'll need to seek her out. The wallpaper and flooring that Saharah carries are available only from her. You won't know which pattern from the list before you're getting it, but it will be something rare.

Saharah always forgets to bring her map when she makes deliveries. If you help her make her deliveries she will reward you with one of her exclusive wallpaper or flooring designs.

Chair or Vase?

Saharah has a secret—and it involves a strange addiction to tur-bans! If you get ahold of one, give it to her and see what happens (see page 44).

Gracie Arrives at 6:00am and stays for 24 hours Random day from Monday to Friday (ask Booker for specifics)

Gracie is Animal Crossing's style diva, spreading fashion wisdom wherever she goes. She'll drive into your town on a random weekday in her fancy automobile (you may see her car parked in front of town hall). She is willing to share her rare, stylish and valuable shirt designs, but only if she considers you worthy.

Take Gracie's pop quiz to earn your fashionista badge. If you answer her questions, she'll give you a shirt design and send you an evaluation in the mail. The shirt will be a regular design that you may see at the Able Sisters' shop. If you keep pestering her after the quiz, she will offer to make you an exclusive design. If you pay her enough, you'll get one from the list below.

A Moldy Shirt?

Occasionally you will get a bonus item attached to Gracie's evaluation—the moldy shirt. Ick! Probably not what you had in mind, but it's a rare item nonetheless, and this is the only way to get it.

Wireless Rangers to the Rescue

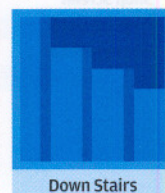

To meet Kaitlin and Katie and help reunite them, you must visit another town via local wireless play. For more information see page 52.

Wendell 6:00am to 12:00am Random day from Monday to Friday (ask Booker for specifics)

Wendell is a freeloading "artist" who travels the countryside in search of inspiration—and free food! He is always looking for a handout, and he'll eat just about anything. If you feed him, he will reward you with cool design patterns that you can use to decorate your town.

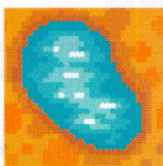

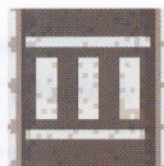

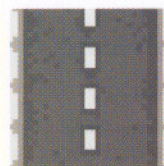

Feed Him Fruits, Turnips or Acorns

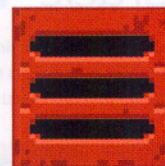

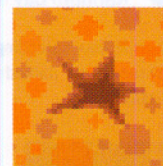

Turn your town into an old-school RPG with these throwback designs. Feed Wendell fruits, nuts or turnips to receive custom patterns with a retro video-game feel. Place them on the ground outside or make a cool shirt or hat.

Feed Him Freshwater Fish

Does your town need some roadwork? If you give Wendell creatures caught in rivers, lakes and other freshwater spots, he'll give you roadway patterns and other designs. Place them on the ground to create your own roads within your town.

Feed Him Ocean Fish

If you upgrade your roads, you'd better upgrade your road signs, as well. Wendell will give you road signs for any fish you catch at the beach. Some ocean fish will net you other cool designs, such as the fossil dummy or storm drain.

Eight Degrees of Wendell

Wendell loves all kinds of food, but if you give him a red turnip you'll be able to start a complex trading game involving many of the special visitors that come through town. Follow this chart to nab some rare items that are available only through this madcap trading game.

Joan (pg. 45)
Purchase a red turnip from Joan and plant it in the ground. Dig it up and have it ready to give to Wendell the next time you see him.

Wendell
If you give Wendell the red turnip, he will give you one of two rare items. If you get the turban, you should keep it for Sahara; K.K. Slider is interested in the country guitar.

Saharah (pg. 43)
Saharah really wants the turban. She'll exchange it for one of two items: if you get the massage chair, talk to Tortimer; Redd is interested in the red vase.

K.K. Slider (pg. 40)
Catch one of K.K. Slider's shows at The Roost. When he's done singing, give him the country guitar—he'll give you the K.K. Slider pic.

Tortimer (poster)
Tortimer is a busy man and deserves a relaxing massage chair. When you see him hosting one of the town events, exchange it with him for the rare scallop seashell.

Redd (pg. 41)
The next time Crazy Redd's tent is in town, have the red vase ready to give to him—he will exchange it for a safe.

Pascal (pg. 42)
Carry the scallop around in case you bump into Pascal on the beach. He will trade you the scallop for the golden axe or Pascal's pic.

Tom Nook (pg. 14)
Tom Nook's business could use a good safe. Trade him for his most valuable possession—Tom Nook's pic!

Gulliver

On the top screen between 6:00am and 12:00pm
Random day from Monday to Friday (ask Booker for specifics)

Gulliver is a far-out space nut that flies around town in a UFO. Watch the top screen and listen for audible clues to spot him in the air. (Booker will also let you know when Gulliver has been sighted.) Carefully aim your slingshot to shoot him out of the sky. When he lands, talk to him—he'll send you on a mission to find the missing UFO parts he needs to repair his spaceship and get back in the air.

UFO Part

You'll find the UFO parts buried in the ground. Return them to Gulliver to receive a rare item from the list to the right.

Finding Gulliver isn't easy—you have to keep an eye out for clues to locate him. When you shoot him down, a brief cutscene will show him crash to earth—look carefully to see if you recognize any landmarks.

Joan

6:00am to 12:00pm
Every Sunday

Joan will show up every Sunday and wander your town selling turnips. She sells the regular white turnips, and red turnips, which you can plant in the ground to grow your own. Joan is friends with Tom Nook, but she doesn't mind if you sell her turnips to him for a profit. The prices will fluctuate, so check in with Tom daily except for Sunday when the turnip "stock market" is closed.

If you're holding on to some turnips, hoping to turn a big profit, don't wait too long—turnips last only a week—after that they'll start to rot and become worthless.

A Green Thumb for Red Turnips?

Why rely on Joan for turnips when you can grow them yourself? When you see Joan on a Sunday, ask if she has any red turnips. If she does, you can use them to start growing your own red turnips. You need to watch their progress and keep them watered to get them to grow—the bigger the turnip, the more Tom Nook will pay for it.

The Secret of the Red Turnip

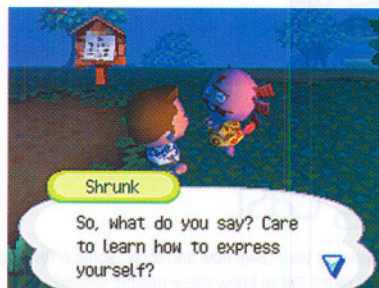

There is more to the red turnip than meets the eye! You can start a trading game with Wendell that can lead to some very valuable treasures (see page 44 for more info).

Dr. Shrunk

6:00am to 12:00am
Random day from Monday to Friday

Having trouble expressing your true feelings to your neighbors? Well, Dr. Shrunk is a psychiatrist/comedian that will help improve your emotional skills. He will teach you different techniques for showing your moods, like having little hearts or rain clouds float over your head, just like your neighbors do.

Too bad Lyle doesn't offer medical insurance—you might need some after dealing with Dr. Shrunk!

Express Yourself... Wirelessly!

Learning how to express your emotions will come in mighty handy when playing DS-to-DS or over Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection. See page 51 for more information.

Katrina Arrives at 6:00am and stays for 24 hours (tent closes at 12:00am) Random day from Monday to Friday (ask Booker for specifics)

On random weekdays the mysterious fortune-teller Katrina will set up her tent for business. For 100 bells, Katrina will tell your fortune. You can request the standard fortune or ask her to assess your compatibility with someone (whether that person is in the game or not). Simply type in the name you want her to investigate.

None of Katrina's fortunes will change your life dramatically. At only 100 bells a session, what'd you expect? You can also ask to have your spirit cleansed for a whopping 10,000 bells—but you can't be sure you're getting your money's worth.

Snowman Push snowballs to build a snowman Every day from December 25 to mid February

When snow is on the ground, you can make a living snowman. To do this, locate the two snowballs in town and roll them around in the snow until they're the right sizes to create a well-proportioned snowman. (Snowballs rolled on the snow-free ground will shrink.) For the first snowball, create the biggest one possible; roll it around as much as you can. The second one (for the head) is more difficult. It has to be slightly smaller than the first—if your snowman is oddly proportioned, it won't reward you with a gift.

When you complete the snowman, it will come to life and it may give you a gift from the rare Snowman furniture series. These items are worth a lot of bells, so build snowmen as often as possible.

You will receive the exclusive snowman paper when the snowman ships you a gift—this is the only way to see the snowman paper.

The Supporting Cast

Several other lesser-known characters will visit your town now and then. Some offer helpful reminders, while others provide comic relief. Get to know these lovable second

Kapp'n

You'll recognize Kapp'n as the pirate-talking cabbie who first brought you to town. When he's not on duty, he likes to hang out at The Roost. He can be very chatty and want to know all about you. If you ever want to move to a different town, Kapp'n will take you to your new home.

Blanca

Blanca will show up once you've set up your DS to watch for wireless downloads. (Use the phone in your bedroom to contact the Service Center.) Once you start playing via Wi-Fi, Blanca will make an occasional visit. She will let you draw a face on her, just like you were creating a pattern for a shirt. When you're done playing wirelessly, she'll leave town. Ask Booker (the guard at the gate) for more details.

bananas—they may not bring you new shirt designs like Gracie or fancy rugs like Saharah, but they still play important roles.

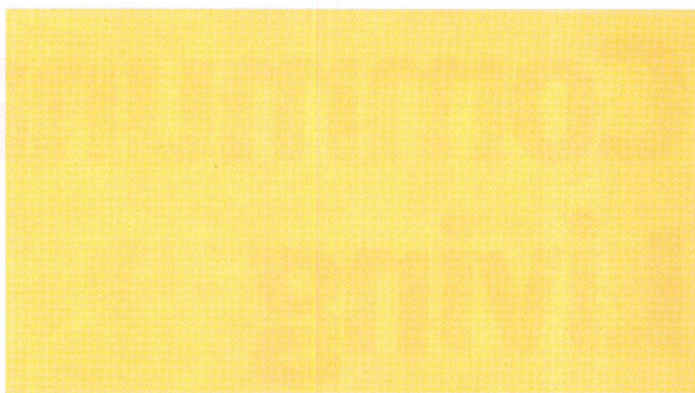

Rover

Rover is aptly named: he likes to roam from town to town taking in the atmosphere. If you see him at The Roost, have a chat with him. He may not have any special gifts or sage advice to offer, but unlike most folks in your town, he's always in a good mood!

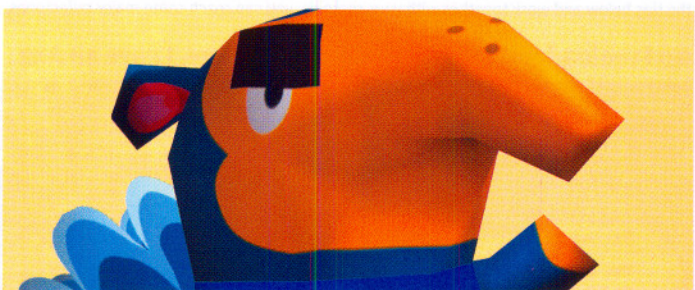

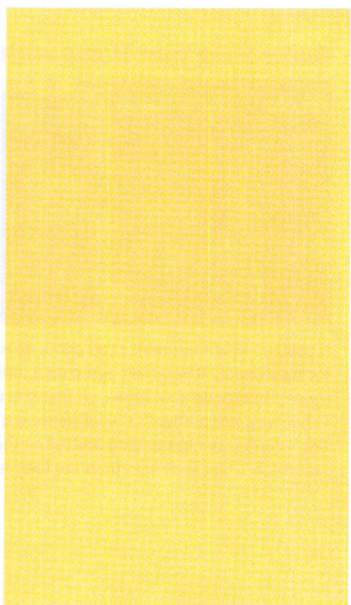

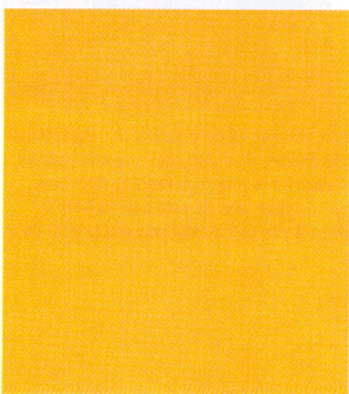

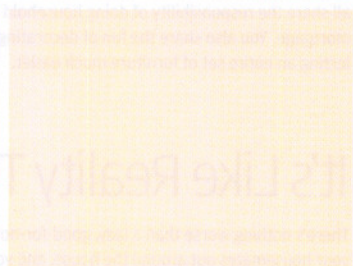

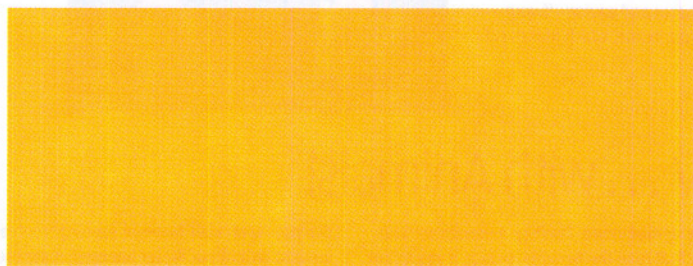

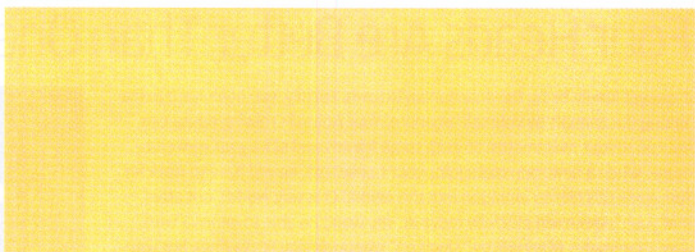

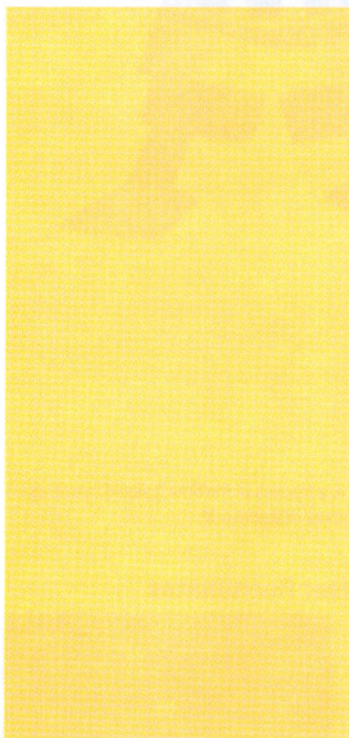

Resetti

Resetti is the mole behind the scenes. He spends his time underground "taking care of business" and keeping the town working smoothly. He's also one of the grumpiest moles you'll ever meet—if you do anything to disrupt the smooth flow of business in town, like turning off your DS before you save your game, he will give you the scolding of a lifetime. To avoid getting chewed out, always press Start and save your game before you shut off your DS.

Multiplayer and Wi-Fi

Communal Living

Want to quadruple your fun? Use the multiplayer features in Animal Crossing: Wild World to turn your lonely bachelor pad into a four-person funhouse!

Four Heads Are Better Than One

It can get lonely being the only human in town. Luckily, you don't have to live among the animals by yourself anymore. Your Animal Crossing house can hold up to four roommates, so grab some friends and start your own commune. When a new roommate joins your household, he will have to work for Tom Nook (it's like an initiation into the Animal Crossing world), but after that your roomie will officially move in. You won't be able to interact with your roommates (they will be "sleeping" whenever you're playing), but you all share the responsibility of doing household chores and paying off your mortgage. You also share the fun of decorating your home, which makes collecting an entire set of furniture much easier.

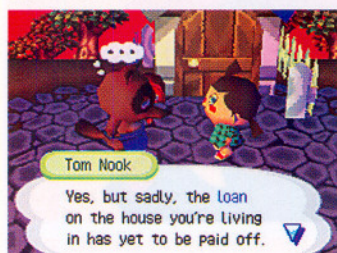

It's Like Reality TV ... with Animals!

There's nothing worse than a lazy, good-for-nothing roommate. Don't be a deadbeat—help your housemates out around the house, and you'll all reap the benefits. In fact, if you follow the tips below and work together with your roomies, you can reach some major milestones, like paying off your home or earning trophies, in a fraction of the time it would take if you were to go it alone. Never underestimate the power of teamwork!

No Free loaders!

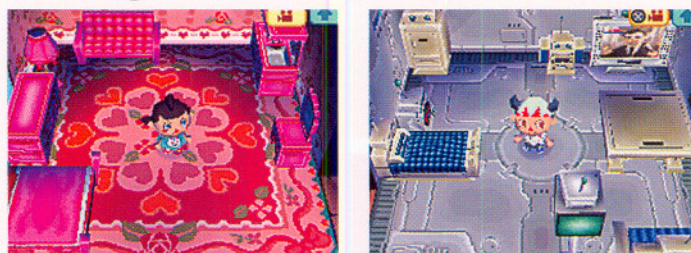

Since you are all living under the same roof, it's only fair that you all help pay off the home loan. The quicker you repay your debt to Tom Nook, the sooner you can expand your house—which you'll want to do quickly if four people are sharing it!

Take an Axe, Leave an Axe

Each roomie has his own storage space inside closets and dressers. However, the roommates can share any item in your home. If a roomie needs a tool, leave it on the ground for them.

Decorating Your Home with Your Roommates

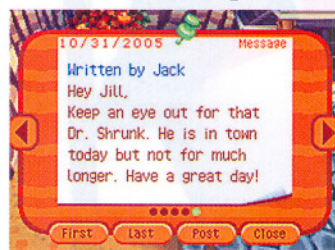

If you and your roommates can agree on a style, you can all help gather matching items for your home. If you can't agree on a common theme, that's OK, too—you can save up money to expand your home, so that you can each have your own room to decorate. Either way, remember that your home is a shared space, and do your part to keep it tidy—don't leave items lying around on the floor. If you can coexist peacefully with your roommates, you'll all benefit in the long run.

Keep in Touch

Does it seem like you never see your housemates? Since only one person can play at a time, you won't be able to talk directly to them. Thankfully, there are several other ways to communicate so you don't lose touch with your roomies.

Post on the Message Board

Do you need to let your roomie know about a special event or visitor? Just post a note on the message board near the town hall—it's the quickest way to get your messages to your roommates.

Send Each Other Letters

If you'd like to add a more-personal touch, send your roommate a letter on your favorite stationery. You can even enclose a gift or a bag of money as an added surprise.

It Takes a Village

There's more to communal living than just trading notes with your pals, of course. Your house is a small part of a greater community, and it's your duty to help make the town a better place to live. Taking care of the yard, picking up garbage, running errands for your neighbors—these are just a few of the many things you can do to improve the quality of life for yourself and your neighbors. Round up your roommates and start pitching in!

What Would the Neighbors Think?

Be a good neighbor and keep in touch with everyone in town—say hi to them on the street and write them plenty of letters. If you earn your neighbors' friendship, they'll tell your roommates about how wonderful you are, and even show them the letters you have written.

Burying Things for Your Friends to Find

All work and no play can make for a boring game. Liven things up by staging a treasure hunt for your friends. Bury a rare item in a good hiding spot and post hints on the bulletin board. Let the fun begin!

Keeping Your Town Clean and Beautiful

Take pride in your town—keep it clean. Bring refuse to the recycling center, pull weeds, water flowers or even do major landscaping like cutting and planting trees. The message board will let you tell your roommates about any projects you've started.

Prank Your Pals!

Feeling mischievous? Bury a pitfall seed in the ground—anyone who walks over the spot will fall in and have to claw his way out. Pitfall seeds are not available for purchase; you must find them underground, in the recycling bin or the lost and found, or receive them as a gift.

A Wild World of Towns

When you play by LAN or by using the Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection, you can meet friends from the next room or around the globe. Pack your bags and set your sites on the big Wild World!

The Gatekeeper

Copper stands at the gate and oversees all passage in and out of your town. You must check with him before you can visit another town or open your gate to guests. He will also help you set up meetings with friends that are nearby or many miles away through the Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection.

In through the Out Door

Copper will give you the choice between traveling to another town or letting someone visit you. If you choose to visit another location, Copper will do his best to locate a town for you. If you would like to let someone visit your own town, Copper will open the town's main gate, allowing visitors to enter.

Local or Wi-Fi?

Whether you're leaving town or opening the gate for a visitor, Copper will need to know if you want to connect locally (to a DS nearby), or far away (over the Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection). If you choose a local connection, you can invite anyone into your town or visit any town that Copper can locate. If you choose the Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection, you must have exchanged friend codes with anyone you want to visit or have visit you.

Saving During Wi-Fi Connections

When someone is visiting, you can save your game but you cannot end it. When you save the game, it also saves the game of anyone else visiting your town. Do not turn the power off, or your guests will be disconnected and will have to reset.

Your Friend Roster

Before you can meet up in a town using the Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection, you have to register a friend code. You must then exchange friend codes with whoever you want to meet up with—this is to keep strangers from coming into your town uninvited and wreaking havoc. You can ask Copper what your friend code is once you've registered it, and you can keep the friend codes of people you've met up with on record in your friend roster.

More Info about the Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection

Having trouble linking your DS to the Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection? See page 12 for additional setup information.

Long-Distance Communication

It's no fun visiting friends unless you can talk to them. Use the keyboard from your menu screen (look for the purple word-bubble icon at the top) to type short text messages (up to 26 characters long). You have three keyboards to choose from, each with different font styles. Using the stylus, press the arrow to the right of the message to put it on display on the main action screen for anyone to read a message you've written. Messages will be displayed for a limited time before disappearing.

Are You Following Me?

When you're visiting another town, you might meet a new friend—or a new neighbor! If you really hit it off with one of the locals, he might decide to pack his bags and move to your town. If he likes his new home, your town might soon be flooded with new immigrants!

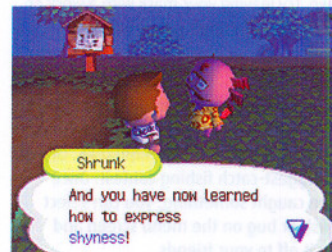

A Note in a Bottle

Sending a note in a bottle is a fun way to interact with local DS users. You never know who's playing nearby! Write your note just like a regular letter, then plunk it in the ocean and wait to see if someone finds it.

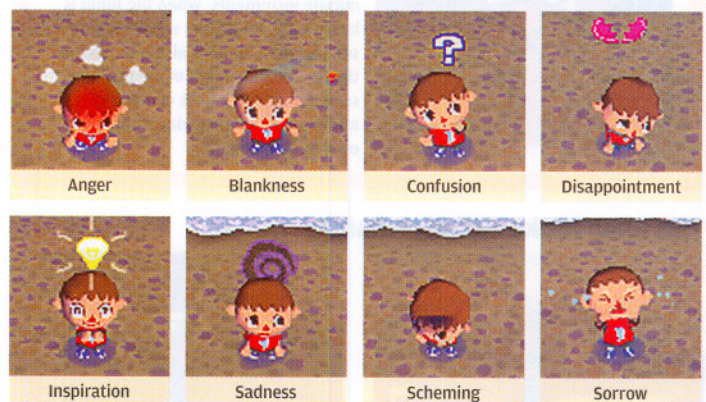

Compose your letter and head to the beach. Select the note in a bottle from the Letters section of your items menu. You will be given the option to release the letter into the ocean—set it free and see what happens!

Emotional Rescue

Having trouble expressing yourself? Don't worry—Dr. Shrunk will add emotion buttons to your typewriter. When you press one, an animated expression will appear. Some examples are shown below. For more information about Dr. Shrunk, see page 45.

Tag Mode in Action

Once you've released your note in a bottle and saved your game, select Tag mode from the main menu screen—you will talk to Rover, who will help you get set up. Close your DS and wait to see if anyone nearby has sent out a note in a bottle and activated Tag mode. If Rover notifies you that a message in a bottle has appeared, start your game up and check the beach to read it.

Wi-Fi Activities

Looking for a fun way to entertain other players? How about setting up a mini-Olympics with your pals? Or, when you're visiting another town, try leaving your mark with a work of art. You can have up to three visitors in a town at one time, so there's plenty to do!

Battle of the Animal Stars!

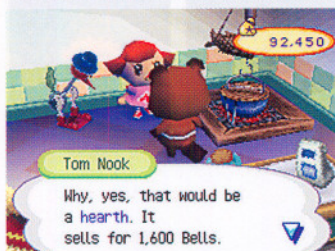

Let the competition begin! See who can catch the most bugs within a certain time limit or try a game of hide-and-seek. Or set up a biggest-catch fishing contest. Once you've caught something, you can select the fish or bug on the menu screen and show it off to your friends.

Use the Timer to Keep Score

If someone has a timer, you can use it in timed competitions you set up. It can measure time for 3-, 5-, 10- and 15-minute increments. When the timer is being used, all players will be able to see the stats. There is also a counter in the lower-right corner of the bottom screen that keeps track of fish and insects caught. (Each player sees his own catch numbers.)

This Shop Looks Awfully Familiar

When you visit another town, don't forget to stop by Tom Nook's shop there—chances are you will see items that are not available in your local shop. Also, check to see if the fruit growing in town is different from what grows in your town. Take some with you to plant trees back home—foreign fruit fetches a higher price than the local variety.

The Grass Is Always Greener

When it comes to getting help with your yardwork, the more the merrier! Invite a friend over to help you take care of a big gardening or landscaping project. Having an extra set of helping hands will make the work go by much faster.

Star Light, Star Bright

If you create a constellation design at the Observatory, when you visit another town (either locally or through the Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection), you and your new friends might spot your constellation up in the sky.

Conquer the Wild World of Fashion

You may have started a local fashion trend, but have you tried taking your designs to other towns? Visit Able Sisters in the other town and put some of your designs up for display—you might soon see your designs being worn around the world!

Ringy-Dingy!

Wondering what that phone in your room is for? You can use it to call up the Service Center then adjust the sound preferences and change the game clock. There's also an option called "Downloads"—select this to access the Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection for different types of downloads to add to your gameplay.

The download options include special message-board bulletins from the Nintendo Wi-Fi Connection or even a letter with a present. You will also see an option called "Mystery Cat." This is a character named Blanca—if she visits your town during wireless play, you'll get a chance to draw her face.

The Lost-Kitten Scenario

When you connect DS to DS, you may have the opportunity to help reunite a lost kitten with her mother. To do so, the host-town player and the visitor must work together. The lost kitten (Katie) will be wandering around the host town, while the mother (Kaitlin) will be inquiring in the visitor's town.

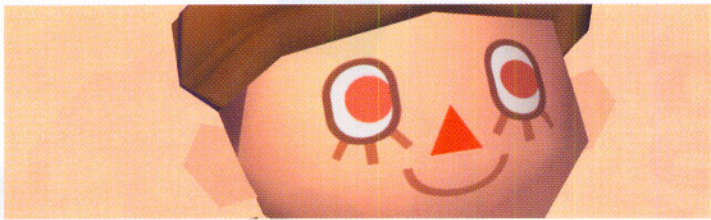

Let the player whose town has the kitten do all the work—it's much easier for the kitten to be led to the mother than vice versa, because the kitten will follow wherever the player goes.

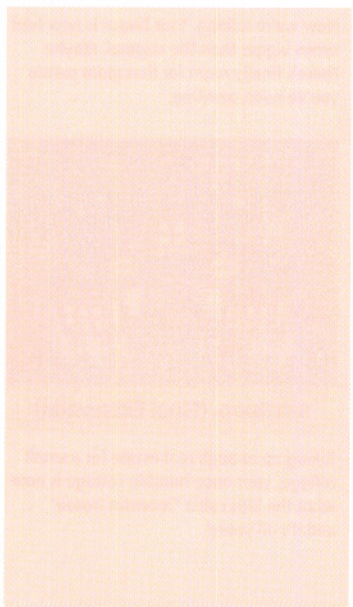

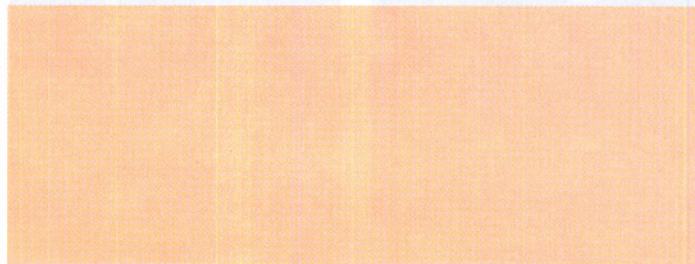

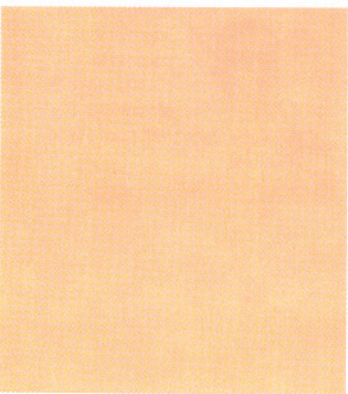

A Successful Reunion

If you reunite the lost kitten with her mother, you will receive a letter and a gift in the mail. Turn to page 44 for more information.

Furnishing Tips & Tricks

Home is where the heart is—and it's also where you store all your junk! Learn how to organize your living space, give it some style and even build an extension on it.

Home Sweet Home

You will start out with a small living space. You'll soon run out of room for all the items you acquire, though, and need to find a bigger place. This is the best reason to pay off your debt to Tom Nook. With your mortgage paid, Nook will give you the option to upgrade your home to something larger. There are six upgrades for your original home, which will give you another floor and multiple rooms that branch off the main one. The screenshots below show you how each upgrade will look from the outside.

Curb Appeal

1st Floor

This humble cottage is where the magic starts—it can only get better from here, right?

1st Expansion

Things are looking up! This house may not be a mammoth expansion, but it's a definite improvement over the first place.

2nd Expansion

Now we're talking. Your house is now four times bigger than the original. Maybe there's finally room for that giant panda you've been coveting.

2nd Floor (3rd Expansion)

Moving on up . . . to the 2nd floor! Your ever-expanding house now has a second level to furnish (the save room moves to the third floor).

2nd Room (4th Expansion)

Not only does this expansion net you a new room, but it also gives you a nice big chimney—maybe Santa won't skip your house anymore!

3rd Room (5th Expansion)

With a new third room added to your house, you could practically open your own museum and give old Blathers a run for his money.

4th Room (Final Expansion)

Taking up enough real estate for a small college, your once-humble cottage is now what the kids call a "monster house" . . . and it's all yours!

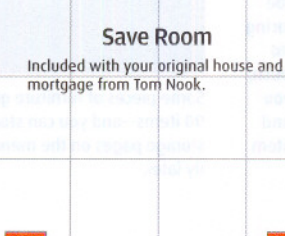

View from Above

Another way to improve your house is to change the color of your roof. Each day Nookington's will stock one of 16 colors.

The Perfect Arrangement

After you move into your new home, you'll start to acquire random furniture and other household items from various sources. If you just throw all these mismatched items in your house, though, it'll look like you're living in a thrift store. Your home should reflect who you are and what you like. Here are some tips to help you create a showcase for your personal style.

Moving Furniture

Experiment with which direction you want things to face—not everything should be pointed toward the front door. Stand facing the item and hold down the A Button to grab the item. Use the Control Pad to push, pull or rotate the item. Alternatively, you can hold the stylus on your character and move it in the direction you want the item to face.

Storage

Some pieces of furniture give you access to a massive storage space that will hold up to 90 items—and you can store almost anything you want inside. Use the six color-coded storage pages on the menu to organize your items into groups so you can find them easily later.

Funky Furniture

Many of your home furnishings are interactive and can add some extra life to your surroundings. You can watch TV, listen to music, play with instruments, sit in chairs (some of which make rude sounds!) or roll around on beds. You can even sit on a toilet that automatically flushes after you get up—isn't technology wonderful? To activate an item press the A Button, or tap your character with the stylus. To sit on furniture, just move toward it; you'll hop right up onto it.

One of the wackiest interactive items is the Lovely Phone, which you can use to call the Dial-a-Psychic Hotline for some telepathic words of wisdom. You can also get creative with the unique movement and sounds of gyroids—set them up to create bizarre audio and dance routines. Play some K.K. Slider tunes and watch them dance!

On Top

Some furniture will allow you to place small objects on top of it. This is great for items like clocks and table lamps that would look strange lying on the floor. This not only looks nicer, but it opens up floor space for other items.

Feng Shui Me!

Feng shui is an ancient interior-decorating philosophy based on the belief that the way your home is arranged will affect how life's energy flows through it. In Animal Crossing it has been simplified to include three colors and three placement points. The charts below show where items of each color should be placed in your home (it must be placed within one space of the correct wall). Some items will give you good luck no matter what—they just need to be placed inside your home (see the chart to the right). To see if your favorite piece of furniture counts towards your feng shui rating, look for it in the Complete Items List starting on page 82.

Happy Room Academy (HRA)

The Happy Room Academy (HRA) consists of a mysterious group of home-decorating enthusiasts who judge your home's style and award you points based on their findings. Taking part in the HRA ratings means you must follow their rules for what matches and what is correct item placement. This page offers tips to help you get a good rating from the Happy Room Academy.

When you first move into town, Tom Nook will ask if you would like to take part in the rating system of the Happy Room Academy. If you join the HRA, you will get letters from the academy giving you a rating on how well you've decorated your abode.

Don't Mix Your Series and Theme Items, People!

A furniture series is a large group of functional furniture. A furniture theme, on the other hand, is a smaller group of related items. Mixing different furniture series and themes is a major decorating faux pas, and your HRA score will be significantly lower if you do so. Each offending item will deduct 4,000 points from your total. Separate furniture series and themes into different rooms to avoid this embarrassing red mark on your HRA record.

Finish Furniture Sets

Furniture sets are smaller groups of items that share a similar look. They can be a little easier to track down if you're having problems completing a furniture series or theme. Again, don't mix furniture sets with other series, themes or sets—keep oddball pieces in a different room.

Place Rare Items in Your Home

The HRA loves to see rare items on display. Prizes and gifts that you've accumulated from contests and special events will give you more HRA points. Some rare items won't affect your series, themes or sets, but some will. See page 58 for a list of items and their HRA point value.

Work with Your Roomies to Decorate Your Place

Up to four people can live in your house together to help pay off the mortgage and to fill up multiple rooms. See page 48 for more info.

There's a Right Way and a Wrong Way

When you place an item incorrectly, the HRA will deduct points from your total. Make sure your furniture is placed in a location that makes sense. For instance, if your TV is facing the wall, no one can watch it, so you'll get points taken away.

Walls and Floors

Each furniture series and theme includes matching flooring and wallpaper designs. Adding these will give your score an extra boost and put the final touches on your interior-design work. You will also find carpeting and wallpaper designs that go well with furniture sets.

Neat Freaks

Don't leave things like paper or clothing lying on the floor to create clutter—the HRA does not like to see a messy house, and you'll get a point subtracted from your HRA score for each item that is on the floor when it should be placed on a table or stored out of sight.

Watch Out for Cockroaches!

If you're away from your home for long periods of time you run the risk of cockroaches taking over your home. The HRA won't stand for that—and you probably won't enjoy it either. Yikes!

Although no one likes cockroaches in his home, getting rid of them can be fun. Run around like crazy, squashing the disgusting creatures under your feet. Where there's one cockroach there are more hidden; it will take a while to get rid of all the cockroaches.

Secrets of the HRA Revealed!

Have you ever wondered how the Happy Room Academy comes up with those confounding ratings for your home? At times, it seems like they pull the numbers out of a hat, but the HRA actually has a comprehensive and fairly straightforward system that awards points for having certain items inside your home, as well as bonus points for reaching specific milestones such as house upgrades or collecting items toward a complete furniture series or theme. The chart below lists the point values for different item types, as well as the bonus points available to boost your HRA score even higher. Refer to the Complete Items List starting on page 82 to see which items fit into which categories, their feng shui colors and more.

Assembling a complete furniture series or theme on display in your home is a very satisfying accomplishment—and it will score major points with the HRA. To keep life interesting, try to earn bonus points to see what kinds of scores you can rack up. Or just decorate how you want to and ignore the rules of the HRA—that's what makes life in Animal Crossing so fun!

Bonus Description	Bonus HRA Points Awarded
Completed furniture series	48,000 Points
Both wallpaper and flooring that matches a series	10,000 Points
Either wallpaper or flooring that matches a series	4,800 Points
Complete Necessities of Life* (from the same series)	16,000 Points
Complete Necessities of Life* (from different series)	4,800 Points
Theme furniture (# of Items x 7,000 Points) + 15,000 Points
Wallpaper and flooring that match a theme	10,000 Points
Complete furniture set	# of Items x 3,000 Points

* The Necessities of Life include a bed, table, chair, wardrobe and dresser/bureau.

Sometimes the HRA-rating letter you receive in the mail will notify you that you've earned a prize for having reached a certain milestone. See the table below.

HRA Points Earned	Prize
70,000 Points	One-Story Model
100,000 Points	Two-Story Model
150,000 Points	Mansion Model

Academy Paper

Your HRA scores will arrive in your mailbox on academy paper. This is the only way you'll see this paper style.

Personal Style Pointers

Looking to upgrade your image? With these accessories, you'll soon be styling and profiling all over town. (See page 125 for a complete list of patterns and accessories.)

Changing Your Clothes

It's amazing what some new duds can do for your image. Change your whole look simply by trying out different shirt designs. You can purchase shirts or design them yourself at the Able Sisters' shop, plus you'll often receive clothing as gifts from friends and neighbors.

Hats and Hair Accessories

Put a cherry on top of your fashion sundae with a nice hat or ribbon in your hair. There are dozens of different items to wear on your head, like knit caps, helmets, ribbons, pins and a fancy crown if you feel like the king (or queen) of town. You can even take flowers you have picked and place them in your hair or mouth.

Carry an Umbrella

An umbrella can be more than just a way to keep from getting rained on—it can also be a fashion statement. Carry one around just to be different or to show off an original design. You can even give your umbrella a twirl by hitting the A Button or tapping the bumbershoot with your stylus.

Face Wear

Whether you want to look smart with a fancy new pair of glasses, or toughen up your image with a muy macho mustache, the Able sisters have whatever you need to give your face the ultimate makeover—even a new nose!

Go for That One-of-a-Kind Look

If you want to really customize your look, turn the page to learn more about becoming a fashion designer.

A New Hairstyle

After Tom Nook expands his shop into the department store Nookington's, you'll be able to visit Harriet at the barber shop inside and get a brand-new hairdo. Of course, she doesn't always listen to how you want your hair styled, so it may take a few times to get it right. See page 16 for more information.

Wigs and Masks

If you're not getting the right hairstyle from Harriet at the barber shop, try on a wacky wig from the Able Sisters. If you still can't find the right style, just cover up that humiliating haircut with a mask or helmet.

Creating Designs

Looking to leave a mark on your town? Become the master of fashion by creating cool new designs for clothes, walls, doors and just about anything else you can imagine.

The Sisters of Style

The Able Sisters run a clothing and accessories shop that promotes creativity by allowing people to make their own custom designs that can be displayed in the shop (and credited to its creator). Sable is always busy at the sewing machine, so talk to Mabel to get started creating your own designs. However, if you talk to Sable daily, eventually you'll become friends, learn about her family and receive her pic.

Off-the-Rack Styles

Along the back wall you will find a collection of clothing and accessories available for purchase, and the selection changes every day. You can also sell clothing and other articles to the Able Sisters. If you have received a shirt, an umbrella, a mask, or something else as a gift and you no longer want it, then take it to the sisters to cash it in for some bells.

Designs on Display

There are always eight designs on display in the middle of the store. You can ask to try a design on, add one of your own custom designs, or trade your design with a design already on display. You can take, display and trade designs free of charge.

Saving Designs

Each character can save only eight designs total. You will find the design save slots under the pencil icon on the menu screen, along with options for ways to display your saved designs.

How to Create Your Own Brand

Creating your own brand of clothing is harder than it sounds. You will have to pay 350 bells to get started. Then you must learn how to use the tools below to actually create the design. Fortunately, the stylus makes creating designs very intuitive. Practice makes perfect, so try to learn how to use the grid system to simplify the process. If you mess up, you can always clear the pallet and start over. Keep at it—soon you'll be designing like a pro!

The Grid System

You can turn on a grid that allows you to design pixel by pixel for easier and more-accurate designs. Turn it off to work freehand or to see how your final designs look.

The Color Palette

The color palette allows you to choose from 16 different color palettes. You cannot mix and match the various palettes.

The Paint Cursor

If you are not using the stylus, you will use this paint cursor to indicate where your pattern will start and end.

The Tool Palette

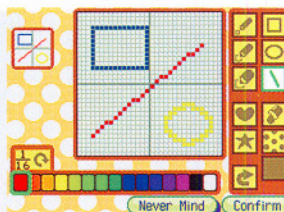

The tool palette lets you select from multiple tools, allowing you freedom to design things your way. Below is a more-detailed list of the tools and what they can do.

The Pen Tools

Use the pen tools to choose different pen thicknesses to decide how you want your designs to look. Fill in just one pixel or multiple at a time.

The Shape Tools

The shape tools allow you to draw a circle, square or other shape with ease. Use the line tool to draw straight or diagonal lines.

The Fill Tools

You can use the fill tools to make solid shapes, like hearts, stars or polka dots, or use the paint bucket to fill the whole grid with one color.

The Master Fill Tool

This tool is similar to the paint-bucket fill tool, but it lets you fill the whole background pallet with a certain hue then add more colors with the other fill tools.

The Undo Tool

The undo tool allows you to undo the last thing you did. If you make a mistake, make sure you catch it right away—you can go back only one step.

Ready-Made Designs

Starting on page 63, we've provided 18 custom designs that you can input into the game. Each one provides the pallet and a numbered grid to help you recreate the custom design perfectly.

A Product for the People

You can make the greatest design in the world, but it won't do any good unless people see it. Show off your goods at the Able Sisters' shop, or wear it around town and try to start a fashion trend. You can also display your art on a doormat outside your front door or on your town's flag. You can even put it on a shirt and send it to a neighbor.

Your Own Clothing Lineup at the Able Sisters'

Talk to the Able Sisters and ask to replace the designs on display with your own creations. Once your clothing line can be seen, you may see someone wearing it around town. Also, visitors can take the displayed patterns and spread the style and look to other towns. Congrats—you may start a fashion revolution!

Have It on a Hat

When you start the game you'll have your own blank canvas hat. Once you have created a design, you can place it on your hat and wear it as part of an outfit.

Show It on a Shirt

You can also print your design on the blank shirt you're provided with. Wear it around town and let all your neighbors get a good look at your sensational sense of style!

Up on an Umbrella

A well-designed umbrella is part of a stylish rain-day outfit. When it is drizzling, you can pull out your custom-designed umbrella to match your shirt and hat.

Hang It in Your House

You can put your designs to use inside your house as flooring or wallpaper. Your creative skills can transform your humble hut into a custom-designed dream house!

Plaster It as a Painting

When you are in your home you can choose the painting icon from your menu screen to view your patterns, and display your pattern as a piece of art to impress your guests.

Down on a Doormat

You can place your designs just about anywhere—even on a doormat! Create custom pathways or use your eight design slots to tile out a huge mosaic.

Export Your Art!

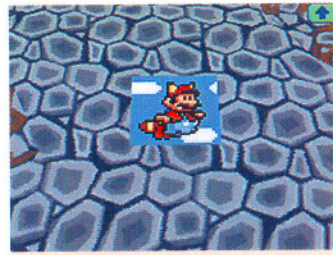

You can always visit other people's towns and start a fashion trend. Leave a design in shops where you visit and see if your style catches on (see page 52).

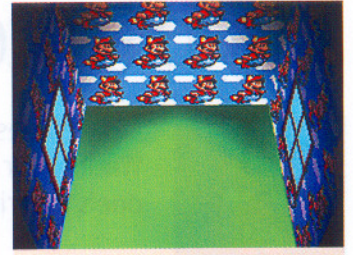

Super Mario Pattern

Kick it old school with Super Mario. You can spread his retro coolness all over town with this easy-to-use template.

Bowser's Kart Pattern

You'll be the talk of the town if you sport a pixelized portrait of the flame-breathing Koopa with the bad attitude cruising on his kart.

Kirby Pattern

Think pink! Whether it's on a shirt or the front door, the balloon-bodied Kirby looks great anywhere.

Reading the Furniture Lists

Price

Price is the cost of the item when purchased on Tom Nook's shop floor or from your Personal Catalog. A dash indicates that the item cannot be purchased.

Size

Size indicates how much space the item will take up in your house (small, medium or large).

Feng Shui

Each item is assigned two colors. If one of the colors will help your Feng Shui rating, it is listed here. If a color is followed by (x2), it will boost your Feng Shui by two points instead of one. See pg. 56 for more details.

Group

Items from one of three probability groups (A, B or C) are most likely to appear in your town. Find out which group your town tends toward by comparing what appears in your town to this list.

Getting Your Hands on Rare and Exclusive Items

You can obtain many items only by purchasing them from the traveling vendor Redd. You'll receive other rare items as rewards for accomplishments or as presents from special visitors (see pg. 40). Be on the lookout for more rare items to appear as time goes by. You can cash in these rare items for big bucks at Tom Nook's shop. If you regret hawking a rare item from Redd's tent, don't worry—you may be able to repurchase it from your Personal Catalog.

Wallpaper & Flooring

Whether you're looking to complete a specific theme or trying to create your own funky style, there are dozens of different wallpaper and flooring options to complement your home.

Reading the Charts

Price

Price is the cost of the item on Tom Nook's shop floor or in your Personal Catalog. A dash indicates that the item cannot be purchased

Group

One of three probability groups (A, B, and C) is most likely to appear in your town. Find out which group your town tends toward by comparing what appears in town with the items on these pages.

Series or Theme

This tells you if the wallpaper or carpeting is specifically designed to complement a particular furniture series or theme.

Wallpaper and Flooring Patterns from Saharah

Saharah will come to your town more often than other visitors. If you want to get your hands on rare and valuable wallpaper or flooring patterns, make sure you know which day she will be coming. See pg. 43 for more details.

Clothing Patterns

There are 256 styles of clothing available in the game, and your options change with the seasons. Browse the samples here to find a style you like, or show off your artistic talents and design your own at the Able Sisters shop (see pg. 60).

Reading the Charts

Price

Price is the cost of the item at the Able Sisters shop or in your Personal Catalog.

Season

This is the season during which you're most likely to see this clothing item for sale.

Group

One of three probability groups (A, B, and C) is most likely to appear in your town. Find out which group your town tends toward by comparing what appears in town with the items on these pages.

The Wonders of Wendell

Wendell is like a walking vending machine, but instead of inserting coins for snacks, you give him snacks for rare patterns, such as road designs. See page 44 for a sampling of goodies Wendell will trade for food.

Tools & Gadgets

Everyone loves a pineapple bed or a garden gnome, but you can actually do something with the tools and gadgets below, like catch bugs or dig up bags of money. To find out how to use these items, consult the Neighborhood Activities section (page 22).

Paper

Letter-writing may be a dying art form, but don't tell that to the folks in Animal Crossing. You'll find yourself scrawling notes to friends and mailing gifts. Before you head to the post office, though, you'll need some supplies.

Insects & Spiders

Do bugs give you the heebie-jeebies? If so, you might want to skip this section—it details all the creepy-crawlies in Animal Crossing, where you can find them, and how much they're worth. See page 24 for more details.

Long-Lost Fossils

Animal Crossing is filled with buried treasure, including prehistoric fossils. Although they look like rocks, these ancient artifacts are more valuable than they appear.

Reading the Charts

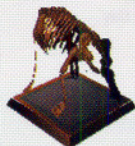

Price

This is the price Tom Nook will pay you for the fossil after Blathers has evaluated it.

Unidentified Fossils

When you first dig up a fossil, it looks like a blue rock (left). After the museum examines your find, its true appearance and worth will be revealed (right).

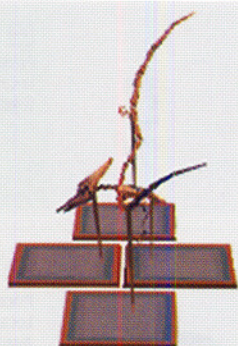

↑ Mammoth Torso
Price: 2,500 Bells

Blathers the Paleontologist

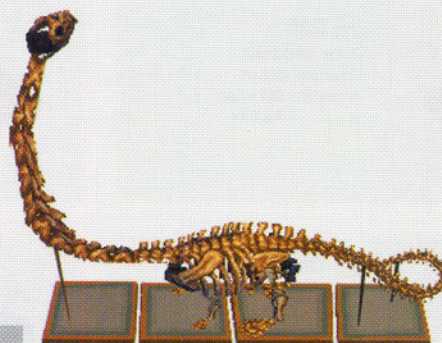

Blathers may be a bit long-winded, but he does know his fossils. Ask the old owl to examine your finds—he will tell you exactly what kind of fossils you've discovered. Your unearthed treasure can be anything from ancient amber to dinosaur bones. Once the fossil type is determined, you'll be able to sell it to Tom Nook for some big-time bells or donate it to the museum.

Donating Fossils to the Museum

Instead of selling your fossils to Tom Nook's shop for profit, you can donate them to the museum for display. When you have your fossil examined by Blathers, he will give you the donation option. See page 19 for more details.

The Dancing Gyroids

Gyroids are strange toys that are found in the ground. There are 127 to dig up, and each one has a unique sound and dance. Tom Nook will buy Gyroids for 828 bells. See page 56 for more information.

Outdoor Plantlife

Plants play an important part in your town's ecosystem—you can harvest fruit trees for money, and plant flowers to make your town more attractive to neighbors and visitors.

Reading the Flower Charts

Buy Seed Bag

This tells you whether you can purchase seed bags for a given type of flower at Tom Nook's shop. Flowers without seed bags grow only in the wild.

Sell Price

You can pick flowers and sell them to Tom Nook for a small profit. Rare flowers growing in the wild can fetch more Bells.

Trees

You can purchase cedar saplings and regular saplings from Tom Nook to grow your own trees. The saplings are available only at the shop, so get them when you see them. See pg. 26 for more information.

Fruits

Each town has a randomly chosen local fruit that grows on trees. You can sell the fruit to Tom Nook or plant it to grow more fruit trees. Local fruit from your town won't fetch as high a price as fruit imported from another town. Coconuts also fetch an import price, but they are hard to find. Watch the beach for a coconut to wash in, then plant it to grow some coconut trees. See pg. 26 for more information.

Local Sell Price: 100 Bells

Acorns

You'll find different sizes of acorns on the ground during the Acorn Festival. You can sell them to Tom Nook for profit, but you can put them to better use if you take part in the Acorn Festival. See the calendar for more information.

Turnips

The world of turnips is a lot like the stock market—buy low and sell high. You can purchase two different types of turnips from Joan when she visits your town: white turnips (to resell) and red turnips that you can plant to grow your own. Check the current buying price for them at Tom Nook's shop and try to hold out for the best price. Don't hold out too long, though—turnips start to rot after a week.

Available: Joan (pg. 45)
